FIND NEW CLEW TO STRANGLER OF WOMAN!

SEARCH FOR MYSTERIOUS BOX WITH $30,000

Federal Officers In Hunt For Money Hidden by Missing Paymaster

LOS ANGELES, April 5.—While federal authorities today continued their search for a mystery deposit box, said to contain $30,000 in cash, it was learned that a search for Lieutenant Ervine Brown, missing navy paymaster, had been made at Upland at the home of his sister, Mrs. Ida Stevens, but that no trace of him had been found there.

Mrs. Daisy Brown, the missing man's wife, is said to have given the authorities keys to a safety deposit box declared to be either in Southern California or in Ogden, Utah, where the $30,000 is supposed to be cached. Mrs. Brown has already turned over to naval authorities $75,000 of the $120,000 navy funds her husband is alleged to have taken.

Lucien Wheeler, department of justice agent in charge here, predicted today that Brown will either be found or surrender himself within forty-eight hours.

ACCIDENT DELAYS WORLD CRUISERS

Propeller and Pontoon on One Ship Damaged; Hope To Start Sunday

SAND POINT FIELD, SEATTLE, April 5.—A damaged propeller and a hole in the left pontoon of Major Frederick L. Martin's flagship "Seattle" caused a postponement of another day of the start of the American globe-circling flyers scheduled to hop off at 6:30 o'clock this morning after a delay of five days.

The work of pulling the big cruiser out of the water onto the dock at San Point field for repairs was begun at 9 o'clock.

Sprung pontoon guys had thrown the plane's "water feet" out of alignment, so that heavy sprays was thrown onto the propeller.

Plan Start Sunday

The fabric and brass rims on the propeller tip were chewed up badly. A flying fragment from the damaged propeller punctured the pontoon with a small hole.

With the plane on the derrick for repairs it seemed probable that a delay of more than one day would be necessary, though Major Martin said the hop-off for Prince Rupert, B. C., would take place Sunday morning if possible.

Major Martin hopes to repair the damaged propeller, as the only spare propeller on hand here is an experimental one.

PLAN REGULATION

SACRAMENTO, April 5.—Supervisors, district attorneys and other officials from twenty-seven northern and central counties convened here today with representatives of the state department of agriculture and drafted uniform local quarantine regulations to check the spread of the foot and mouth disease.

Daniel F. Bowler Is Dead

DANIEL F. BOWLER, Glendale manager of Sparr Heights office, who died yesterday afternoon, age 50. Funeral arrangements are being completed. Mr. Bowler leaves a widow and three children.

Daniel F. Bowler of 501 South Glendale avenue, widely known as the Glendale manager of the Sparr Heights development, died at his home at 5:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Friday, April 4, 1924, aged 50 years. Funeral arrangements will be concluded following word from Wisconsin relatives of the deceased, who are expected to leave for Glendale today.

Burial will probably be Wednesday or Thursday of next week, from the Holy Family Catholic church, Glendale, Father Michael Galvin officiating, with interment at Calvary cemetery, Los Angeles. The L. G. Scovern company is in charge.

Born in Wisconsin

Daniel F. Bowler was born in Sparta, Wis., October 10, 1873, and was reared on a farm, with seven brothers and a sister, by a widowed mother. He completed his education at the University of Wisconsin and later engaged in the life insurance business in Milwaukee, where he achieved statewide success.

Later Mr. Bowler went to Fond du Lac and was still later the guiding spirit of the great Spirit Lake development project, selling over $1,000,000 worth of lakeshore property that became one of the most beautiful residential sections of the state. He came to Glendale in October of 1922, at the solicitation of Senator Francis, who was at first identified with H. E. Barnum and M. Walters in the development of Sparr Heights.

Widow, Three Children

On October 23, 1901, Daniel F. Bowler married Miss Margaret Conger of Sparta, Wis. There were three children of this union, all of whom, together with the widow, survive, being Miss Vera Lucile Bowler, aged 20; Miss Mildred Marie Bowler, aged 17; and Clifford Daniel Bowler, aged 12.

There also survive four brothers, all prominent in Wisconsin, and one sister: E. R. Bowler, of Sheboygan; John and George Bowler, of Antigo; James Bowler, of Monroe; and Mrs. William Conrad, of Antigo.

The deceased had suffered with stomach and kidney trouble intermittently for fifteen years and death resulted from a general poisoning that had gradually broken his health. It is thought that the condition was aggravated by a cold he caught on Tuesday night of this week, during the heavy rain. He had been in bed for the past three days, under the best of medical attention, but failed to rally and death was expected.

Mr. Bowler was prominent in Glendale business and social circles. Among other organizations, he was a member of the Realty board, Elks, Knights of Columbus, and Chamber of Commerce.

The complete program for the second quarterly "Forum" meeting of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce on Monday night, April 7, at which Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson will be the principal speaker, is now announced by Secretary Eugene F. Sanders.

The meeting will be held at the Broadway High school auditorium, starting at 7:30 o'clock, and will be presided over by Lyman P. Clark. Chrisman of the Gospel Tabernacle church, Miss Elizabeth Mottern will render a vocal solo.

Noted Speaker

A few announcements will then be made by Dr. Jessie A. Russell, after which Mayor Spencer Robinson, "Glendale's singing mayor," will favor the audience with a selection. Mrs. Daniel Campbell, president of the Tuesday Afternoon club, will then introduce the speaker.

ACTRESS TO RUSH $5,000,000 SUIT

Musical Comedy Beauty to Sign Depositions In Los Angeles

NEW YORK, April 5.—Through the signing of an order by Supreme Court Justice Millen directing the taking of depositions in Los Angeles, it became known today that the $5,000,000 action brought by Miss Helen Jesmer, former musical comedy beauty, against Philip Morgan Plant, heir to $15,000,000, will be called for trial in supreme court here next Monday.

The suit grew out of what, at the time, police characterized as a "joy ride," when young Plant, foster son of the late Commodore Morton F. Plant, with several young men friends, were escorting Miss Jesmer from New Haven to New York in a touring car. The car crashed into a tree, the occupants were hurled to the roadway and all received injuries. Miss Jesmer is now living in Los Angeles with her mother.

Glendale Evening News,

Gentlemen — Your committee has gone over the letters on "Why I Came to Glendale," and we have selected the following three letters which, in our judgment, set forth the best reasons in the most acceptable way.

First Prize, $25—Mrs. George M. Roland, 452 Pioneer Drive.

Second Prize, $15—Mrs. G. W. Ramsay, 605 North Geneva street.

Third Prize, $10—Mrs. Wm. R. Lantz, 1443 Dorothy drive.

It was very difficult to come to a definite conclusion, as there were many letters that were so excellent and so much alike that your committee found great difficulty in distinguishing any marked difference between them.

We trust that our selection will meet with your approval.

Respectfully submitted,

Announces Engagement

MISS DOROTHY PEART, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Peart of 801 South Maryland, whose engagement to GLENN DOLBERG, shown below, was announced at a delightful dinner party last night.

Reveal Cupid's Secret to Group of Friends at Delightful Dinner

The engagement of Miss Dorothy Peart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Peart, of 801 South Maryland avenue, to Glenn Dolberg, prominent young business man of Glendale, was announced last night, when Mrs. Peart and her elder daughter, Miss Eunice, were hostesses at a delightful dinner party at the Egyptian Village.

In revealing the betrothal it was made known that the wedding of these two popular young people will be a mid-summer event, to take place some time in July.

Charming Dinner

The approach of Easter time was the inspiration for the choice of yellow and white for the appointments for the announcement dinner.

Golden jonquils formed the artistic floral centerpiece, and the yellow and white scheme was further expressed in the placecards and other appointments.

The guests found the engagement secret concealed in the clever placecards.

Congratulations are being showered today on both Miss Peart and Mr. Dolberg, and many smart affairs will doubtless honor them during the late spring and early summer, before their wedding, which will be an event of wide interest.

Glendale Graduate

Miss Peart graduated from the Glendale Union High school in 1922 and in addition to her school and social activities, she is well known in musical circles, possessing a talented contralto voice.

Mr. Dolberg is also a well known and talented vocalist, in addition to being prominent for his artistic photographic work.

Friends of Miss Peart invited to the dinner last night were Misses Lucy Strother, Betty Fell, Doris Packer, Evelyn Gregg, Mildred Stanford, Elizabeth Sternberg, Kathleen Campbell, Eleanor Sawyer and Alice Lookabaugh. RELEASE FAMILY IN LOVE TANGLE

Foster Parents to Answer Charges In Juvenile Court Later

LODI, Cal., April 5.—The "love sharers" are happy again.

They won the first round in court when Justice J. H. Selkmore permitted Mr. and Mrs. Bert Marella, Miss Angeleno Roasta and the two Marella babies of which she is the mother, to return to their little cottage on their "own recognizance," although the Marellas were held for juvenile court on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

The Marellas waived a hearing. The trio protested they were mystified why the law interfered when they are living happily. The Marellas have been married twenty years. They adopted Angelano when she was two, and when Marella announced he had fallen in love with his foster daughter, who had reached the age of 20, Mrs. Marella raised no objection. The trio then lived happily until the law stepped in.

POLICE SEEK MAN FRIEND OF VICTIM IN BRUTAL KILLING

Room In Which Woman Is Slain Shows Evidence Of Fierce Struggle

LOS ANGELES, April 5.—The police obtained a hot clew today in the investigation of the murder of Mrs. Vera Stone, found dead in her apartment, when they learned that a man who called himself "Bill Lester" had been refused entrance to her apartment by Mrs. Stone shortly before she was killed.

The man is said to have rapped on the door, and Mrs. Stone called, "Who is there?" He replied, "Bill Lester. Let me in." To this Mrs. Stone is said to have answered, "Go on downstairs, I won't open the door." The man then left the apartment house.

Beaten to Death

Police today launched a sweeping investigation into the death of Mrs. Stone, who was found beaten and strangled to death in the West Eleventh street apartment which she occupied with her sister, Miss Pearl Dunbar, who discovered the crime late last night.

Evidence that a struggle preceded the woman's death was found in the fact that Mrs. Stone's clothes were torn badly, her hair matted, and a string of pearls which she wore had been torn from around her neck and scattered about the room. The woman's skull was also found to be crushed, apparetnly with some blunt instrument, and several bruises and scratches were found on her neck.

Many Male Friends

One clew of the crime which the police had to work on today was a statement by the landlady at the apartment house that about 9:30 o'clock last night she heard Mrs. Stone say in a muffled voice: "My God! Bill, you are killing me!"

Police are of the opinion that the slayer was a man, and point out long, deep scratches on the woman's neck.

Offers Alibi

George Dunbar, father of the slain woman, and another sister, Mrs. Gertrude Bantow, were located by the police. Dunbar said he had talked with his daughter by telephone only an hour and a half before her lifeless body was found. She told him then, Dunbar informed the police, that she was very well, though she had suffered a slight heart attack. Mrs. Bantow told the police of a trip downtown yesterday with the dead woman, and her information, it is believed, may result in the arrest of at least one suspect.

Frank Heyfron was arrested in Hollywood late last night, but gave an alibi, which the police investigated further today.

The police also investigated a series of mysterious telephone calls.

GIVE NEW RULING ON SUBDIVISIONS

City Planning Commission Holds Maps Must Have Engineer's O. K.

Hereafter all subdivisions submitted to the City Planning Commission for approval will not be acted upon unless they have previously been presented to Ben S. Dupuy, city engineer, for his consideration, and are accompanied by his report.

This was unanimously decided at the regular meeting of the planning commission held last night at the city hall. This policy is adopted, stated T. W. Watson, president of the commission, so that uniformity would rule as far as possible. Without the city engineer's sanction or disapproal, the commission had no way to determine the merits of the proposed plans.

The date for the public hearing on the establishment of a commercial district on East Elk street between Glendale boulevard and Louise street was set for April 11 at 7:30 p. m., at the city hall. There has been much discussion over the subject and the commissioners will listen to the interested parties discuss the question before making their recommendation to the council.

Other small matters of a routine nature were attended to. All members were present.

We Wash Your Clothes In Water Purer Than The Water You Drink.

Every drop of water we use is made pure, clean and absolutely soft by our expensive scientific process. It is as clean as a crystal and soft as rain water. Many folks pay 50c a bottle for drinking water no purer nor softer than the water we wash all our clothes in.

And every woman knows what a difference soft water makes in washing clothes. They look nicer—they are softer, sweeter. And it's not necessary to use harsh soaps to get them clean.

LOVELY PATRONS CROWD MEN OUT OF BARBER SHOP

Fair Clients Invading Last Stronghold of Men in Growing Numbers

And now comes a new indoor sport—waiting in your favorite barber shop for a few tonsorial repairs, whilst a bold bevy of bobbed-hair beauties occupy all the chairs and most of the waiting bench.

Gone are the good old days when a barber shop was (like that unmentionable institution knocked down by Carrie Nation and carried out by Andrew Volstead) a masculine haven, the abode of aromatic odors and spicy yarns. Today the ancient and honorable establishment, whose emblem of red and white spiral bands (red for blood and white for bandages) harked back to the days of the Caesars, has fallen into strange disrepute among he-males.

Like Afternoon Tea

One might almost fancy an afternoon tea in progress at the average Glendale barbering emporium. The realistic conversation regarding fights, horse races, raids and the like has been supplanted by a sketchy, 1924 variety of flap-doodle chatter.

Picture Old Timer entering such an establishment, beguiled by the red and white emblem. On his face is a three day stubble.

PICK COMMITTEE FOR INFORMATION

Select Women to Answer All Questions Delegates May Ask Them

At a recent meeting of the committee which will have charge of the information desk during the convention, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday next week, Mrs. Lillian E. Dow, chairman of the committee, outlined the work of the committee and announced the schedule on which the members will work.

Information as to cars to and from Los Angeles, time tables, location and route of bus lines and local cars, names and location of streets, location of delegates, committee rooms, programs of the different sessions and any changes, in fact, an answer to any question, as Mrs. Dow says, "from A to Z," will be available at the information desk in the reception hall near the office and telephone.

The members of Mrs. Dow's committee are Mesdames John G. Huntley, S. C. Leppleman, W. N. Stamps, Frank C. Ayars, Harry James, John Herbert Toal and R. A. Blackburn.

Schedules For Days

The schedule arranged by Mrs. Dow provides that on Tuesday afternoon Mrs. F. C. Ayars and Mrs. J. H. Toal will be at the desk; Wednseday morning, Mrs. W. N. Stamps and Mrs. S. C. Leppleman; Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. R. A. Blackburn and Mrs. Harry James; Thursday morning, Mrs. J. G. Huntley and Mrs. F. C. Ayars; Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Blackburn and Mrs. James.

Mrs. Dow and her committee will no doubt handle the situation in an efficient manner and the desk will prove of great convenience and add greatly to the comfort of the delegates.

Mrs. Dow is also a member of the information committee of the Biennial, of which Mrs. Charles E. Hutcheson of Glendale is chairman.

Invest Your Money In World Wide Glendale Advertising Account!

April 4, 1924.

Editor The Evening News: Your appeal to the citizens of Glendale to participate in a movement to advertise Glendale in eastern newspapers and magazines, strikingly indicates that you are taking an unselfish leadership, as far as being the first contributor to the movement is concerned. The talent and energy of your staff and space in your newspaper are devoted to this cause, which indicates a broad, progressive civic spirit, that can be to some extent encouraged by every citizen in Glendale.

Where there is elasticity there is expansion, and we are living in an age of progressive and enterprising spirits that creates and multiplies our wealth and pleasure.

Is it really worth while to contribute a dollar or more for the purpose of advertising Glendale to the world?

Let us face this proposition in an unbiased state of mind. Assuming that each citizen in Glendale is interested in seeing the population increase, industries grow in number and size, better business houses and professional service, finer improvements, buildings and attractions, public buildings and other innovations, we come right up to the door of capital, the dollars that make things move, give employment, pay better wages, increase the value of our lots, houses and other property. These new people and new dollars that make such wonderful growth possible, are attracted to Glendale by means of judicious, impelling and irresistible appeal blazed in advertisements throughout the eastern nationally circulated newspapers and magazines.

Our Glendale Chamber of Commerce is the clearing house for dispensing additional information, and soon we meet the newcomers at the new Southern Pacific Railway depot; and they are made to feel like home folks in all of our grand environments. They, in their turn, urge others in the East to get something out of life that is worth while in the grand Glendale style. Can you visualize all that?

Read this and ponder—"I thought to advertise thee, saying, buy it before the inhabitants and elders of my people"—4th chap., 4th verse Ruth, Old Testament, Holy Bible—and we have been advertising ever since.

Glendale and its future concern all of us. We belong to Glendale and Glendale belongs to us. We are part of Glendale and each one of us has an influence for construction or destruction in the affairs of Glendale, our home city, and each of us is held accountable for our attitude in this respect.

All of us have a conscience and when obeyed, usually is the most satisfactory element to consider.

We either grow or die, go forward or backward. We cannot stand still.

The fact that Glendale has grown to the remarkable extent that it has, during the past few years, is the result of the stamina and optimistic, aggressive attitude of its loyal citizens. Perhaps we will some day see a Glendale with 300,000 population or more, if this spirit is fostered.

The citizens of Glendale are loyal to their home city. They will do their share when called upon, so let us broadcast the joyful news about the wonder city to the world and let the world know that it is welcome.

Let us contribute our share of the financing that is necessary.

"What we sow, we will reap."

A branch bank in Glendale, offered $1 to new depositors for opening an account under certain conditions. When every citizen of Glendale offers $1 or more for the "World Wide Glendale Advertising Account" and sees people arrive, who will spend their dollars in Glendale, and capitalists who will bet on Glendale by building industrial plants and buildings, which means multiplying the money in circulation in Glendale, and increasing of property values, really and truly, they will realize that it is a solid and absolutely safe investment. Let's Go!

Truly yours,
WM. J. SCHAEFLE.

Officer's Car Damaged By Fire Near Garage

Merle Collins, motor officer, came within an ace of losing his Buick coupe yesterday when it caught fire outside of the city garage back of the fire station on East Broadway shortly after 1 o'clock. The blaze started, according to witness, from either a short circuit or a back-fire as the officer was stopping. The fire department was called and extinguished the blaze before damage to any extent had resulted.

WELFARE WORK IN CITY IMPORTANT

Report Filed With Manager Stone Outlines Tasks Before Bureau

The amount of work being carried on by the City Welfare Bureau, under Mrs. E. D. Yard and Mrs. L. W. Sinclair as treasurer, is indicated by the report filed with City Manager V. B. Stone this morning.

Their work is of the nature that it must not receive much publicity, yet day in and day out they are visiting needy families in Glendale, issuing groceres and clothing and providing temporary monetary relief.

The report shows that during the last month they made forty home visits; granted nine interviews at the office; assisted fourteen families; gave assistance to ten new cases reported and secured employment for five people.

One hundred and seventy-seven articles of clothing were received during the month. The total disbursement for the period in cash was $145.86.

Needed in City

"I believe that the welfare department is one of the most important in the city," said the city manager this morning, "and yet their work is generally unnoticed.

"Compared with eastern cities of corresponding size, the relief work here is very light, but there are occasionally cases that need immediate attention. Both Mrs. Yard and Mrs. Sinclair give a great deal of their time to this department, the former without any remunearation and the latter with but small recompense, entirely inadequate for the time spent in the work.

"The affairs of the department are administered in a very efficient manner, which probably accounts for the quiet way in which they go about things."

High School Orators Laud Woodrow Wilson

Alice Castile won for the sophomores and Mary Elizabeth Campbell won for the freshmen, in the oratorical try-outs held yesterday afternoon at the Broadway and Harvard street plants of the Glendale Union High school.

Both winning orations were in praise of Woodrow Wilson.

BARTHELMESS IN THRILLING ROLE IN 'TWENTY-ONE'

Clever Young Film Star Is Cast as Taxi Driver In Clever Play

A taxicab-driver hero is the clever role given Richard Barthelmess to play in "Twenty-One," his new First National picture that opens at the Gateway theater on Sunday.

In this modern story Barthelmess is to be seen as a poor little rich boy, whose parents have come to the parting of the ways. He rebels at the unmanly things that his mother wants him to do and tires of the joy-riding, jazz-crazy younger set.

Flees From Home

And it is when his parents interfere with his romance with a young factory girl that he runs away to New York to remain in hiding until he is twenty-one so that he can marry her.

The only thing he can do is drive a car, so he becomes a taxicab driver, and his adventures then multiply until the happy climax.

Adapted from Novel

"Twenty-One" is a modern story, having been adapted to the screen from the novel "Wild Apples," written by Grace McGowan Cook and Alice McGowan Dorothy Mackaill, portraying the role of a poor young factory girl with whom the wealthy young hero of the story falls in love and for whose sake he runs away from home to the city to gain independence as a taxicab driver, is once more to be seen as Dick's leading lady.

When the young taxi-driver and his factory girl sweetheart start home from a dance late one night, the machine breaks down and they are forced to put up at a hotel over night. When ugly things are whispered later, the hotel register is looked up and the signature is seen to read, "Julian McCullough and sister."

PLAY PRESENTED BY CLUB WANTED

Kansas Literature Society May Give Drama Penned By Glendalian

Tuesday Afternoon club women, who witnessed the presentation two years ago by the Parliamentary Law department of the club, the play "The Women of Daleglen Organize," written by Miss Eva Daniels, will be interested to learn that a request has come from Washington, Kansas, for the play.

Mrs. H. O. Jenicke of Washington, who was a visitor in Glendale two years ago, was a guest at the club the day the play was given. In writing for the play she says:

"Just about two years ago, while in Glendale, I had the pleasure of attending a play given by the Parliamentary Law section of your club, called "The Women of Daleglen Organize."

Write for Books

"Our literature club want to do something along that line and recalling the above, thought it would be just what we want. Will you kindly let me know where we can get it, or perhaps you may have no use for your books and would let us have them."

Miss Daniels is greatly pleased over the recognition of her play, for, after it was given at the Tuesday Afternoon club, it was presented with success by another Southern California club.

Local Debaters Lose To Los Angeles High

A large group of students from Glendale High school attended the debate held last night in the Los Angeles High school, with Paul Cunningham and Miss Bonnie Jean Lockwood representing Glendale on the affirmative side and Patterson French and Miss Lola Kern of the Los Angeles High school on the negative side. The decision rendered was two to one in favor of Los Angeles.

The subject of the debate was, "Resolved, That the United States should no longer maintain the Monroe Doctrine as an essential principle of her foreign policy."

The judges were Professor Scott of Pomona College, Professor Tradin of Inglewood High school, and Professor Roy Culey of Belmont High school.

NATIVE SONS OF STATE CONDUCT PLAQUE SERVICE

Hold Impressive Ceremony at High School and Make Brief Talks

With impressive ritualistic services, a bronze tablet was laid at the Broadway High school yesterday afternoon by Los Angeles chapter No. 45, Native Sons of the Golden West, following exercises in the auditorium of the new school building.

The plaque, 14 by 26 inches, was laid in the main entrance midway between the steps and the main doors, and will command the attention of all entering or leaving the building. On it was inscribed the following:

This Building Is Dedicated To Truth, Liberty and Toleration By The Native Sons of the Golden West April 4, 1924.

The ritualistic ceremonies incident to the actual placing of the tablet were in charge of Sheriff William I. Traeger, past grand president of the order, who officiated as grand president. He was assisted by the following members acting in the capacity of grand officers: H. C. Lichtenberger, past grand president; John T. Newell, grand first vice-president; Edward J. Reilly, grand second vice-president; and A. G. Sharkey, grand third vice-president.

Water From Missions

The services were simple yet characteristic of the great good which the Native Sons are accomplishing in California, and were altogether fitting and in keeping with the magnificent structure with which they had to do. They were witnessed by the student body of the High school, the future men and women of this state, who stood reverently around the officers as the tablet was lowered in place.

The water with which the cement used in the ceremony was mixed came from all the important missions in the state; the sand from every county in the state and the cement from every mill in the state, which gave the affair state-wide importance.

Give Brief Talks

Prior to the exercises on the steps, the student body had gathered in the auditorium. After several selections by the High school orchestra, Principal George U. Moyse introduced Mayor Spencer Robinson and President W. E. Hewitt of the Chamber of Commerce, both of whom made short speeches welcoming the members of the order to Glendale.

H. C. Lichtenberger introduced Sheriff Traeger, who gave the principal address of the afternoon, taking as his subject "California." He traced the history of the state from the date of discovery by Cabrillo until the present time, paying a glowing tribute to the pioneers of '49 whose foresight and wisdom had laid the foundation for what he termed the greatest state in the union.

The laying of the tablet at the local school is in keeping with the practice of the Native Sons who are observing this custom through out the state wherever possible.

It became known today that the Elwood Gas Appliance Co., of 227 East Broadway, had purchased the SanicO Store No. 2 at 3619-21 South Vermont avenue and yesterday opened the same as an exclusively Occidental Gas Range store.

In the year and a half of its existence this firm has established a record even in this "Fastest Growing City." The combination is hard to beat and their success has been well merited.

Local Woman As Ramona

MRS. MILDRED BREWSTER, talented wife of Harold Brewster, dramatic coach at the Glendale Union High school, who will take the part of Ramona in a pageant to be given at Hemet.

Ramona, the beautiful heroine of California history and romance, will be portrayed in the coming Ramona pageant at Hemet by Mrs. Mildred Brewster, talented actress, wife of Harold Brewster, dramatic coach at the Glendale Union High school.

In an open canyon, called Ramona Bowl, the pageant will be produced under the direction of Garnet Holme, who has arranged the play from Helen Hunt Jackson's famous California tale, "Ramona." About 100 persons are included in the cast.

Mrs. Brewster, who recently took leading part in a community play at Long Beach, has had much professional experience, and is one of the talented professionals, who will appear in the Hemet pageant.

Startling Effect

The Indian feature in the play is under the direction of Ray Brant and a most startling effect is produced when fifty Indians spring out into the sunlight, making for a brief time a wonderful picture in the natural surroundings of the beautiful canyon.

Music for the play is to be furnished by Areas Spanish troubadors of Los Angeles.

The pageant is produced with the sanction of Virginia Calhoun, owner of exclusive dramatic rights on "Ramona" and with Little, Brown & Company, publishers, of Boston. It will be given April 10, 11 and 12.

PIONEER CHURCH WILL CELEBRATE ITS ANNIVERSARY

'Home Coming Day' Planned By M. E. Congregation For 40th Birthday

"Home Coming Day" services will be held on Sunday, April 6, at the Central Avenue Methodist church, of which Rev. Leo C. Kline is pastor.

The interior of the church has recently been refinished, and, while everything is fresh and clean and the Easter season is approaching, the pastor thought it a good time to look backward and give a little thought to those who have made possible this church during the forty years of its organization, and at the same time look forward to a future of new growth and renewal which the idea of Easter brings.

This is the pioneer church of the valley. It was incorporated in 1884, under the name of Riverdale M. E. church, under which name it still stands in the state records. The records are deficient as to the early months of its existence.

Need for Church

In the early part of 1884 the necessity for a church building was felt by a group of settlers who had recently moved into the valley, as the only building available was the recently completed school house which stood on the site of the present Cerritos Avenue school.

Among these pioneers were a few church members particularly of the Methodist and Presbyterian denominations, and all joined in building a church structure. Later the Presbyterians organized, and early in 1885 erected their own building.

This pioneer structure was a small frame building located on the west side of Glendale avenue, at what is now the northwest corner of Windsor road. The names of those participating in the original organization have been preserved, as follows: H. H. Stevens, W. B. Warner, B. F. Patterson, W. G. Watson, Peter Backman, P. H. Bullis, A. S. Hollingsworth.

List of Ministers

Immediately after the building was completed Rev. H. R. Stevens organized the Methodist church and evidently served as volunteer

BURBANK

BUILDING PLANS CALL FOR $200,000

Fifty New Residences Will Be Erected on Tract, Contractor Says

A $200,000 construction program that will employ local building tradesmen throughout the summer and add materially to the monthly permit totals is announced by F. J. Hults, contractor, who will erect fifty houses on the Marigold tract, under contract with the subdividers.

The buildings will be built on Fairview, Niagara and other streets leading off of Magnolia avenue. They will be built, ten on on a block, in the order of a house, two vacants and a house. Most of them will be five rooms, some of them of frame construction and some of stucco. On Niagara, they will be built of stucco, the average cost being $3500 to $4500, according to tract officials.

Work will begin on the fifty houses immediately, states Mr. Hults, and will continue until fall. Contracts will be sub-let to local men wherever possible.

Divide on Tax

Once more the occupational tax bugaboo is abroad in the land. A canvass just completed by the Chamber of Commerce shows that eighty-six Burbank business men would like to see it done away with and thirty would prefer it retained.

Aside from the real estate fraternity, the vote was evenly divided, in many lines of business, being one for and one against the tax. Of the thirty-five real estate men expressing a preference, thirty-one were opposed to the tax and four in favor of it. Of eight manufacturers voting, seven favored removing the tax and one voted to retain it.

Manager J. W. Charleville of the Chamber of Commerce has referred the canvass to the City Trustees, who have appointed a committee comprising Mayor J. C. Crawford and E. J. Jackson, to confer with the merchants in an effort to reach some understanding on the matter.

Plenty of Water

Water need no longer be conserved beyond a reasonable extent in Burbank and all extraordinary measures are declared void by the City Trustees who state that the recent rains have not only raised expectations but lifted reservoir levels to a point where the Saturday night bath need no longer be menaced.

This action was taken following receipt of a telegram from county water officials, stating there was no further need for drastic conservation measures. A reasonable discretion is all that is now asked.

Local ranchers are asking the same of the clouds.

EAGLE ROCK

TOURIST SEASON BRINGING GUESTS

Many Residents Entertaining Visitors from Widely Scattered Points

Many Eagle Rock residents are entertaining guests, as the tourist season reaches its height. Mrs. George W. Kibby of Chicago has spent the past month with Mrs. O. M. Blunt of Ellenwood drive.

Theodore Halsey is stopping with his sister, Mrs. Ruth Jackman, of 5222 Sierra Villa drive, while attending the Glendale Union High school.

Mrs. Violet Vredenberg and Miss Ellen Elliot of Chino, Calif., were the recent guests of Mrs. Mabel Armstrong of 5065 LaRoda avenue.

Mrs. Mabel Armstrong of LaRoda avenue entertained Mr. William Garland of Long Beach last week.

Mrs. C. M. Knapp, of Garden Grove, Calif., is spending some time with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Dorr of 2041 Addison Way.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Griswold of 5147 Hermosa avenue have sold their home to Mr. and Mrs. Ben Black of Highland Park, who will move in at once. Mr. and Mrs. Griswold have moved to 2151 Ridge View.

James B. McNary, instructor of sloyd at the Eagle Rock school, spent last week-end at San Diego, leaving Friday and returning Monday.

The public is invited to attend a Bible class held at 5219 Loleta avenue (Peyton) every Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by Mrs. Baker of Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gates recently entertained the Home Builders, a Sunday school class of the Methodist church. A fine time was enjoyed. Mr. Gates is the teacher. The class is made up of young married couples.

Officer G. H. Taylor of Lincoln Heights division, Los Angeles police, was a visitor at the Eagle Rock station last Saturday. Officer Taylor was formerly a member of the Eagle Rock force for several months.

The Misses Dixon of Highland View avenue entertained the young ladies of the Foreign Mission society of the Methodist church, last Monday evening. Miss Ruth Lacy was in charge, with Mrs. L. E. Hammond assisting.

LA CRESCENTA

FAVORS SUPPORT OF FLOOD BONDS

Conservation of Water to Result From Adoption Of Control Plan

The regular monthly meeting of the Improvement association was not as well attended as had been expected, though there was quite a number of members present and a delegation from Verdugo City. Ex-Governor Plaisted of Maine read the minutes of the last meeting; also the treasurer's report, in the absence of C. A. Haskins.

Mr. Steinbrey spoke on registration, receiving some registrations during the evening. Harvey Bissell spoke on the flood control and urged everyone to register so as to be able to vote at the May elections on the flood control bond issue, which would mean cheaper water to this district, he claimed, in that it would conserve the water supply.

Mrs. Seymour Thomas addressed the assembly on Madame Yaw's coming concert. Mr. Plaisted read some interesting communications, also some bills, probably not so interesting.

Plan City Directory

H. M. Fowler spoke of getting up a city directory so that visitors to the valley could find friends more easily, requesting a committee of five from each civic organization be appointed to help in the work. Mr. Bissell thought the suggestion a splendid one inasmuch as people would then be able to state just which district they lived in. The unnumbered houses will be taken care of also and anyone asking President M. S. Collins will receive his help in this matter; or, if they count one for every twenty-five feet in the block they will be able to number their own. The houses were completely numbered some time ago, when Mr. Mallory went to every home placing the numerals on each house.

Embert Brown thought a number of persons now receiving mail on Glendale rural delivery routes should get in at the La Crescenta post office to show loyalty to the town.

Mr. Fowler, speaking for his association of commerce, stated they could not accomplish some of their desires unless helped by the other organizations, one of the improvements wanted being a sidewalk and curbing all the way up Los Angeles avenue. On Monday the surveyors will begin work on the south end of Los Angeles avenue but it will be some time before paving is completed.

Deputy Health Officer

Dr. E. M. Wemple gave an interesting talk. He has recently left the army, ranking as major, stands very high in his profession, and the valley is fortunate in having such a man volunteer his services as deputy health officer, without salary. This is what Dr. Wemple has done and he stands ready at any time to look into any public sanitary nuisance, etc., to report to Dr. Pomeroy. Dr. Wemple has his office at 140 W. Honolulu avenue, Verdugo City. He also said the health officers would appreciate co-operation in the proposed ordinance being prepared for unincorporated districts.

Working plans for making asceptic cesspools can be had free of charge from the Los Angeles county Farm Bureau, it was announced. This system of cesspools will provide a sub-irrigation system which means a saving in water bills.

Guild Meeting

The regular monthly Guild meeting of St. Luke's of the Mountains was held at the home of Mrs. C. Pritchard on Michigan avenue. As the Lenten season is growing short it was decided to hold an all-day sewing bee at the home of Mrs. Mark Collins. The women will furnish edibles, and a busy day will, no doubt, finish up the sewing.

Dr. Renison will address the ladies on Tuesday afternoon of next week at the home of Mrs. V. H. Walker, 136 East Prospect avenue, where the women will meet at 1:30 to sew.

The pupils of Miss Marguerite Hauber were presented in a pleasing piano recital last night at the La Crescenta school auditorium. The stage was artistically decorated with baskets of the flowery bridal wreath, while the children looked like human posies in their dainty frocks. Miss Hauber is to be congratulated on the showing her pupils made, and all received hearty applause. These recitals are semi-yearly affairs and everyone looks forward to them expectantly.

Fear Bootleg Gangs May Stage Gun Fight

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., April 5.—A pitched battle between rival gangs of bootleggers operating along the coast highway is being prepared for by officers of Santa Barbara county, following investigation of a warning received here by several men known to be implicated in coastwise rum running deals.

The warnings were contained in notes left at the homes of local men and advised them to pack guns because they were to be attacked shortly during an impending wholesale importation of liquor.

"We'll get even," the warnings read, "but we want to give you a fighting chance."

Oldest fish remains known to science were found near Canon City, Colo., it is said.

TUJUNGA

RESERVOIRS AND DAMS PROMISED

Flood Control Bond Issue Provides Improvements For All Canyons

By provision made in the bond issue which is to be submitted to the voters May 6, Tujunga will get a reservoir in Big Tujunga canyon that will cost $1,600,000 and will impound an aggregate of 14,000 acre feet of flood waters, and a system of wire check dams in Haines canyon that will cost $100,000.

Other improvements provided for in the near vicinity are a small arch and check dam in Pickens canyon, wire-bound check dams in Dunsmuir and other nearby canyons and the Verdugo wash in Sycamore canyon. These will cost $700,000, the Verdugo wash totaling $450,000 of this sum.

The building of reservoirs which will impound an aggregate of 270,633 acre feet of flood waters and the construction of check dams and storm drains make up nearly all of the items listed in the program, which calls for a total expenditure of $35,300,000.

Property Recovered

With the apprehension of C. H. Wickstrom, who is believed by the Glendale police to be the man responsible for the many burglaries in the Verdugo hills district as well as in Glendale, many Tujunga people have recovered property that was stolen from their residences. Judge Lowe has ordered the return of all identified articles to the owners, except one article from each one to be held as evidence at the trial. Wickstrom gets his preliminary hearing April 14.

Mrs. Carey R. Morgan reports that he made a purchase of a lot in one of the tracts handled by herself and Mr. Morgan and made a payment with a gorgeous wrap of fur, which she now finds to be an embarrassing possession to exhibit.

Owners Listed

Among Tujunga people who have identified property found in the Wickstrom house are the occupants of the Barrett cottage on Los Robles avenue, one oil stove; owners of a new house on Summit avenue, linoleum; George H. Dunlop, Mountain avenue, La Crescenta, a pair of binoculars; F. P. Newport, household goods; W. F. Ross, 216 North Briggs avenue, La Crescenta, a Wilton rug. Residents from many sections of the Verdugo hills as well as other communities expect to find their property included in the haul made by the Glendale police.

Troop 2 of the Tujunga Boy Scouts met Thursday evening at the Community church for the first time. There are sixteen members enrolled, under the leadership of Earl C. Brunner as scoutmaster. Mr. Brunner will go to Catalina Island this week to inspect camp sites for the Tujunga and Sunland troops for their summer encampment there.

MONTROSE

BOOST STANDING OF POSTOFFICE

Increased Patronage Results In Rating Advanced To Third Class

Established less than a year ago as a fourth-class office, the Montrose postoffice has been raised to the rank of third-class, according to word received by Mrs. Frances W. Brown, postmaster. The office has been well patronized and outgrew the original quarters in the Bellanger drug store several weeks ago, moving to another location nearby.

Postmaster's pay in a fourth-class office is based on the stamp cancellation, while in third-class it is on a salary basis, which generally has an advantage over the other system. Advancement is provided for in the cases where the annual business, based on the stamp cancellation, has reached the one thousand dollar mark.

Discuss Fire Protection

The task of working out the fire protection problem in the newly formed districts is proving a difficult one for the committees to cope with. Nine men representing the Montrose Chamber of Commerce, the La Crescenta Improvement association and the Verdugo City Association of Commerce have discussed the problem from many angles and gathered considerable information on the subject, but no definite plan has been settled on.

The same problem faces the committee in this district that has retarded the progress of committees in the Tujunga-Sunland territory, that of protecting the thickly populated residence and business districts where fire hydrants and pumping engines would be effective and at the same time providing adequate safeguards for the hillsides where neither pumpers nor chemical engines could penetrate to subdue brush fires.

Owing to the small attendance at the last meeting of the Montrose Chamber of Commerce, the subject is scheduled to come before the members again and will also be the main topic of discussion at the meetings of the other two organizations.

Community Sing Success

The weekly community sing was a decided success this week as an old-fashioned spelling bee formed the principal attraction of the evening. The Webster dictionary was awarded Mrs. Clark of Ocean View for the best speller, while little Mildred Biescar won the booby prize—a vest pocket edition of the same book.

Mildred Biescar gave several very pleasing piano numbers and received hearty applause for her clever work. Manager Hopkins takes this means of thanking Miss Biescar for her work.

Enough voices have been secured now and Director Prosper will begin rehearsals right away at Montrose schoolhouse for the musical program he is arranging.

MURDER, SUICIDE, ENDS LOVE AFFAIR

Widower Shoots Sweetheart Throws Body From Car; Turns Gun on Self

FREDERICK, Md., April 5.—The clandestine love of Leone Whitter, pretty 22-year-old florist's assistant, and Clinton Shepperd, 42, widower, and business man, ended today in the murder of the girl by her lover and his death by his own hand.

Shepperd shot the girl six times last night on a lonely country road and was wounded himself when she pulled the revolver away from him and shot before he overpowered her. He then pitched her body out of his automobile, drove to the home of his brother in Frederick and shot himself to death with the same gun.

Author In Death Pact With Husband, Is Dead

RICHMOND, Va., April 5.—Mrs. Tula Cummings, well-known author under the name of T. D. Pendleton, who shot herself Tuesday night in a suicide pact with her husband, died early today. Cummings' death occurred instantly. It has developed that both had been in ill-health for a long time.

Whiskey Delivered In 20-Case Lots, Witness Testifies

WASHINGTON, April 5. Twenty cases of whisky and liquor at a time, under the careful pilotage of a "revenue man," arrived at the "little green house in K street," occupied by Howard Mannington, friend of former Attorney General Daugherty, according to testimony of Andrew Smith, a negro butler, at the house, before the Wheeler investigation committee, yesterday.

The butler said he used to see most of the prominent personages of Washington at the house.

Smith said he saw Harry M. Daugherty, Jesse W. Smith, Colonel Charles R. Forbes, Harry F. Sinclair, General Charles A. Sawyer, George B. Christian and William A. Orr, former secretary to ex-Governor Whitman of New York, among others, visiting Mannington at the "little green house."

Charge Rancher With Causing Forest Fire

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., April 5.—Lawrence Murray, wealthy stock rancher of the Santa Ynez valley, has been arrested at his home by United States marshals on indictments furnished by the Los Angeles federal grand jury in which he is charged with having started one of the forest fires in the National reserve last summer which burned more than 250,000 acres of timber and grazing land and caused losses to ranchers in crops, buildings and stock. A Santa Ynez bank is said to be raising bond money for his release.

OPPOSES NEW TAX

WASHINGTON, April 5.—President Coolidge is opposed to any new forms of taxation, it has been announced officially at the White House, in reply to a query concerning the administration's attitude toward the proposed ten per cent tax on radio sets costing more than $15.

SMITH'S VICTORY STIRS PROPHETS

New York Governor Looming As Dangerous Entry For Nomination

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The surprising and unlooked-for victory of Governor Al Smith of New York, in the Wisconsin primaries, inspired the political prophets of Washington today to predict that the "Tammany entry in the Democratic presidential sweepstakes will go to Madison Square Garden next June with a strength on the first ballot of approximately 200 votes.

Governor Smith will, of course, have the New York delegation of ninety votes, and it is likely he will get the twenty-six from Wisconsin, although the Wisconsin result is not mandatory on the Badger delegation. His friends here say he will pick up stray and scattered delegates from New England states and from the middle west to swell his total to the two century mark.

If the New York governor does not develop this much strength on the first ballot, as many Democrats here believe, he will probably enter the balloting at the garden as one of the three leading contenders, the other two being McAdoo and Underwood.

Alarm at Treasury Stirs Capital Cops

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Capital police were suddenly galvanized into action late yesterday when the burglar alarm at the United States treasury started gonging at at terrific rate.

Before it had stopped, the treasury fire alarm added to the confusion.

Having visions of an armed assault on the money vaults of the treasury, firemen and policemen turned out en masse.

The excitement died down, however, when it turned out that the burglar alarm had grounded and that the alarm of fire had been turned in by an excited watchman.

The New Madrid earthquake in 1811 caused the formation of several lakes in Arkansas and Louisiana.

Mystic Letters on Dinner Invitation Stir Dry Sleuths

WASHINGTON, April 5.—"B. Y. O. B." Those four cryptic letters printed in small type on a dinner invitation created a furore in army circles and have resulted in quiet preparations for some prohibition sleuths to "look in" on the annual dinner of the purchase, storage, and traffic division of the general staff, to be held in the Hotel Astor, New York, next Monday night, April 7.

When General John J. Pershing, ex-Secretary of War Newton D. Baker, Major-General James G. Harboard, Benedict Crowell of Cleveland, and Assistant Secretary of War Dwight Davis—all listed as guests of honor, sit down to the banquet there probably will be several sleuths masquerading as waiters about the festival board.

'Independent Offices' Call for $398,496,890

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The appropriation bill for the "independent offices" of the government, carrying $398,496,890, passed the house late yesterday.

SETTLE DISPUTE OVER CONSULATE

U. S. Officers Vindicated as Two-Year Breach With Britain Is Healed

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The former American consular officers at Newcastle-on-Tyne, England—Fred C. Slater and Russell M. Brooks—have been completely vindicated in the settlement of the two-year-old dispute which resulted in the closing of the consulate, state department officials said today.

The British government had charged that Slater and Brooks had exerted undue influence in getting emigrants to travel out of Newcastle on American ships, but these charges were withdrawn in the settlement.

Name New Consul

Charles Roy Smith will be the new United States consul at Newcastle.

The final settlement was effected in London by Premier Macdonald and Ambassador Frank B. Kellogg, although negotiations have been in progress between Secretary of State Hughes and the British foreign office since the spring of 1922.

Vote of Confidence Aids Poincare Stand

PARIS, April 5.—Premier Poincare's new government occupies a strong position today as a result of its majority of 257 in the vote of confidence accorded by the Chamber of Deputies Thursday night.

All the policies of the old cabinet will be maintained. Chief of these are: First, occupation of the Ruhr until Germany pays; second, a strong reparations policy against Germany; third, continued unity of action with Belgium against Germany; fourth, fiscal reforms, including higher taxes and reduced government expenditures.

SACRED CONCERT BY CLUB ARTISTS IS APPRECIATED

Large Audience Packs Big Auditorium at Church To Hear Numbers

Not only Glendale music lovers but many visitors from nearby cities gathered to hear the concert of sacred music by the Glendale Madrigal club and other local artists last night at the First Congregational church, under the direction of Mrs. Charles A. Parks. The auditorium was filled almost to capacity.

The numbers by the Madrigal club included a rendition of "Gallia" (Charles Gounod), a motet for women's voices, with solo parts by Mrs. L. K. Markey, and a double quartette ,"The Prayer Perfect" (Stenson), sung by Mrs. Roger Bentley, Mrs. E. B. Moore, first sopranos; Mrs. R. N. Slater, Mrs. A. R. Chapel, second sopranos; Mrs. H. L. Bullinger, Miss Vera Schlotzhauer, first altos; Mrs. Hartley Shaw, Mrs. Albert Draper, second altos.

Soloists Please

"The Lost Chord" (Sullivan), with solo parts by one of the latest additions to the club, Mrs. Southworth, was a most impressive number. Numbers by assisting artists were baritone solos, "Judge Me, O God" (Dudley Buck), and "Fear Not Ye, O Israel (Buck), by Louis K. Markey. These were outstanding numbers of beauty and merit.

Miss Frances Paine gave two selections on the violin, "Humoresque" (Frank Patterson), and "From the Cane Brake" (Samuel Gardner), with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Gertrude Champlain Erb. Accompaniments for the Madrigal club and the soloists were played by Miss Lilla Litch at the pipe organ.

A number that was greeted with enthusiasm by the audience was a duet, "Claire de Lune" (La Mothe), by Miss Litch at the pipe organ and Mrs. Erb at the piano. They responded with an encore, "Serenade" (Widor), which was a most delightful number. Miss Litch, who is organist for the church, gave several numbers on the instrument at the opening of the program. These were "Fantasie" (Tours); "Spring Song" (Mendelssohn), and "Pomposo" (Rogers).

Changes Necessary

Announcement was made this morning that Mrs. Markey took the place of Mrs. J. D. Cole, who had hoped to arrive in Glendale in time for the concert, but will not reach here until tomorrow.

Because of the death yesterday of her teacher, Mrs. Grant, Miss Flora Kilpatrick was unable to take part in the program and her place was taken by Mrs. Southworth. Mrs. Draper was unable to sing because of a severe cold.

Those attending the concert were pleased with the announcement that the Congregational church is now prepared to make the final payment on the church organ. Proceeds from last night's concert went to the organ fund.

WITHDRAWS FROM RACE FOR PLACE ON CLUB ROSTER

Mrs. Roberts' Announcement Keeps Name Off Ticket, Politics Upset

In the midst of the political activity in Tuesday Afternoon club circles, preliminary to the annual election, April 22, comes the announcement this morning of the withdrawal of Mrs. Warren Roberts, one of the most popular candidates for the first vice presidency.

Mrs. Roberts, who was installed worthy high priestess last night at the meeting of Omar Shrine, No. 9, White Shrine of Jerusalem, is one of the most popular members of the Tuesday Afternoon club.

Other Duties Prevent

In announcing her withdrawal she expresses sincere appreciation for the honor conferred on her by the club women who nominated and were supporting her, and states that because of her arduous duties as leader of Omar Shrine she does not feel it wise for her to continue as a candidate for the first vice presidency.

In her association with the club Mrs. Roberts has served most efficiently as treasurer for three years; chairman of courtesy, chairman of philanthropy, curator of the music department for two years, and has taken an active interest in every phase of the club life.

Before the time for nominations arrived she was mentioned by many as a candidate for the presidency, but when this matter was brought to her by friends she strenuously opposed such action, but consented to have her name placed on the ballot for the first vice presidency. Announcement of her withdrawal will be received with keen regret by the club women.

The effect of Mrs. Roberts' withdrawal on the final count of votes will be watched with interest by the club women. The remaining candidates for the first vice presidency are Mrs. A. L. Ferguson, Mrs. C. G. Putnam, Mrs. John Robert White, Jr., all three as popular in club affairs as Mrs. Roberts.

In 1904 the lot on the corner of Central and Palmer was purchased, and the building was removed from Glendale avenue to the rear of the lot. It was used until 1913, when the present church was erected, and the old church is used as a social hall.

Since its organization 968 members have united with this church and worshipped at various times in the old church and in the present structure. In the record of baptisms it is related that one was immersed in a trench (irrigation ditch, probably) near the church, several in the Los Angeles river, and several in the "pool" in Griffith Park, and one under a "chute near Zandia."

As indicating the growth of this church in recent years, the records show for 1920 an active membership of eighty persons, and the present membership has increased to 215. There has been a steady growth the past year, but death and removal from the city change the number numerically very little. Fifteen new members will be received Sunday by Rev. Kline.

Rev. Leo C. Kline, the present pastor, is a graduate of the University of Southern California, having received his B. A. and his theological degree in 1920. For three years previous to this he had been student pastor at Eagle Rock. His first charge after graduation was Las Vegas, Nev., where he remained until last September, when he was transferred to Glendale. There is no better evidence of Rev. Kline's standing in his conference than that of being assigned for his second pastorate to as important and growing a point as Glendale.

The program for "Home Coming Day" is as follows: 11 a. m., morning worship, "Forty Years of Service"; 2:30 p. m., "Old-Timers'" meeting, former pastors and others will speak; 7:30 p. m., 'Young People's Rally," Dr. W. L. Davis, district superintendent.

A number of former pastors are expected to be present, and also former members of the church. An invitation has been issued to bring lunch and stay all day.

More Grief Ahead For Cops as Mary Revisits Glendale

Mary's out again!

Mary Gibbs, aged 16, of Los Angeles, who has caused the local police force more grief than any other person on record, left her home in Los Angeles again yesterday and according to a report made at headquarters is supposed to be in this city again.

The counter at police headquarters still bears the marks of Mary's teeth, where she clung on with her molars so tenaciously that it required the efforts of three men to tear her loose.

Her mother has requested that, if apprehended, she be returned home.

Write Best Letters In The Evening News Contest To Boost Glendale

Angeles, and yet not in it, was a determining factor.

Many advised against our coming, as the old folks would never be happy away from early scenes and life long friends.

The fastest growing city in America with such a wonderful climate, such a scenic setting of mountains and valleys, could offer nothing but prosperity and opportunities.

In a city of such wide streets, beautiful homes, beautiful churches, and wonderful schools, the logical sequence would be happiness, health, prosperity and longevity.

Yours truly,
MRS. GEO. M. ROWLAND,
452 Pioneer Drive,
Glendale, Calif.

Second Prize

Editor The Glendale Evening News—Why we decided on Glendale for our home after living in San Jose and Oakland for twenty-seven years: One of your "booster" copies of The Glendale Evening News found its way to us two years ago this month, so we motored over to investigate.

We found the location perfect—beautiful mountains and fine homes—sunshine in the winter and cool ocean breezes all summer. Clean, wide streets and a first-class shopping district, fine buildings and many more under construction, good schools and filled churches.

The fine courtesy shown to strangers by your business men and women—I know ery few socially, but, judging by their homes and clubs, I know they must be of the best.

But best of all is the good fellowship that prevails wherever one goes. If only walking on the streets one feels like shouting, "I am from Glendale, I am part of this wonderful city and hope to be here the balance of my life."

MRS. G. W. RAMSAY,
A Native Daughter.
605 N. Geneva, Glendale, Cal.

Third Prize

Editor The Evening News—We came to California last summer to find the best location possible to bring up and educate our five children.

It was after a careful investigation of the country between Santa Monica and Hemet, San Bernardino, Redlands, east and west, and from San Fernando to Long Beach, north and south.

We first saw Glendale at night, coming back from an eastward trip. It looked beautiful even by moonlight—the beautiful mountains, the broad well-lighted streets, grand looking business places, giving an impression of broad-minded people.

It appealed to us at once. The next day we came to get a look in daylight, found it to be strictly a white man's town with grand schools, churches and up-to-date business places.

We bought a home up on the mountain side on Dorothy drive. Our children found the schools to be of the best, and we like it better every day.

In buying here we feel we have the best possible for our money.

Yours truly,
MRS. WM. R. LANTZ,
1443 Dorothy Drive.

Warm Winds of Desert Bring Mercury Change

LOS ANGELES, April 5.—Warm winds blowing over southern California from the desert caused a marked rise in temperature on the southland's coast today and "warmer weather" was the official forecast.

At 7 o'clock this morning the mercury stood at 68 degrees. The highest temperature yesterday was 62 degrees with an average of 56 degrees.

FOREST FIRE

PASADENA, April 5.—A forest fire was raging this morning, either in the Arroyo Seco or Millard canyon, according to meager advices received from forest rangers, who have sent out an appeal for aid. Forty men immediately responded and were sent to help in curbing the blaze.

WHITE SHRINERS INSTALL, HONOR HIGH OFFICIALS

High Priestess, Watchman And Staff Leaders In Big Ceremonies

By KATHERINE V. SINKS
Of The Evening News Staff.

Ideals and ceremonials of the White Shrine of Jerusalem were beautifully and reverently exemplified last night in the Masonic temple on South Brand boulevard, where Omar Shrine No. 9 of Glendale celebrated the installation of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Roberts as worthy high priestess and watchman of the shepherds, and also the installation of their staff.

It was a brilliant affair attended by supreme and past supreme officers, by officers past and present and members from Shrines in Hollywood, Pasadena, Long Beach, Santa Ana, Los Angeles and Glendale, and by countless friends.

Supreme and past supreme officers presented were Clara Hisenbuttle, supreme worthy shepherdess; Elnora D. Osborne of Long Beach, Della E. Clark of Pasadena, Mae W. Johnson of Los Angeles, supreme queen's attendants, and William G. Wisner, past supreme watchman of shepherds.

Officers Presented

The introductions of these officers were followed by presentations of past and present worthy high priestesses and watchmen of shepherds, who were visitors.

Under the capable direction of Maude Evans, the hall was transformed into a scene of beauty. Spring flowers were used in abundance in the elaborate scheme of decoration.

In the east, above the chair occupied by the worthy installing high priestess, was a huge cross of white calla lilies and greenery, with golden crook, with smaller crosses on either side, also of white flowers with yellow lights forming smaller crosses in the mass of flowers.

Before the altar was a long basket of purple flags and in the two corners of the room on either side of the altar were arrangements of pastel-shaded pink cherry blossoms.

High Priestess Served

Graceful wistaria fell from the ceiling beams, which were festooned with greenery, and from the beams at the four corners of the hall hung cages holding canary birds, that trilled soft accompaniments to the music of the evening.

Mrs. Evelyn G. Pierce, retiring worthy high priestess of Omar Shrine, whose devotion, active interest, talent and sweet personality, has endeared her to the Shrine members and friends, served with dignity as worthy installing high priestess. Assisting her were:

Alvah H. Leland, watchman of the shepherds; Orma Vesper Naudain, past worthy high priestess, who served as worthy installing chaplain; Emma W. Wisner, past worthy high priestess of Hollywood Shrine, who served as worthy installing scribe; Emma Bell Kuttler, past worthy high priestess of Hollywood Shrine, who served as worthy installing herald; Alice Ripley, musician; Mae Johnson, worthy high priestess of Manetho Shrine, Los Angeles, who served as escorting herald; Adel Klock, worthy high priestess of Artaban, Shrine, Pasadena, who served as worthy guardian.

Address of Welcome

The address of welcome was given by Alvah H. Leland, past watchman of shepherds. Then followed the entrance of installing officers, escort duty, entrance of officers-elect, obligation of officers-elect and prayer.

Throughout the evening a delightful musical program was given by Mrs. Frank Arnold, Glenn L. Pearce, Miss Elizabeth Mottern, vocalists, accompanied by Mrs. Alice Ripley. Each of the talented singers was heartily applauded and graciously responded with encores.

During Mr. Pearce's singing of "I Hear a Thrush at Eve," one of the little canary birds warbled a soft obligato, which brought such applause from the company that the singer was forced to stop for an intermission between verses. Miss Lois Naudain, talented dancer, also entertained.

Prominent in City

In the installation of Mr. and Mrs. Roberts as leaders of the organization, the Shrine members honored two of prominence in every activity of Masonry. They are past worthy patron and matron of Glen Eyrie Chapter, O. E. S., and Mr. Roberts is prominent in Glendale Commandery, No. 53, Knights Templar.

Mr. and Mrs. Roberts' interests are not alone found in Masonic activities, but in the social and civic life of the city and countless friends in Glendale and other southland cities will join in the happiness of Omar Shrine.

Mrs. Warren Roberts, who is a woman of exceptional beauty, was most charmingly gowned in white georgette, heavily beaded with rhinestones and crystal beads, worn over white satin. She wore pearls, installation gifts from Mr. Roberts, and carried American Beauty roses.

Sharing in the installation ceremonials was their staff, including: Olga Constance Bourne, worthy prophetess; Alice J. Esltrodt, worthy scribe; Maude A. Smith, worthy treasurer; Edith Richardson, worthy chaplain; Sarah F. Leland, worthy shepherdess; Libbie R. Cutting, worthy guide; Mae Warrick, worthy herald; Ralph W. Browne, Mark T. Lee, Edward E. Emerick, wise men; Maude A. Evans, queen; W. W. Cannady, king; Edna F. Lee, Ella E. Joralemon and Ina M. Luring, handmaidens; Katherine V. Delgardo, organist; Mina Wenzel, soloist; Gertrude McMillan, worthy guardian; S. Riley Lyons, worthy guard; Violet Jurgenson, Anne Clark, Elizabeth Kelley, Mattie Reed, queen's attendants; Frederick L. Wenzel, James Wyvell, John Jurgenson, Raymond Luring, king's guards; Bertha E. Wyvell, Luella Emerick, Grace R. Browne, Agnes D. Allen, flower girls; Mayme H. Brown, pillow bearer; Maude H. Mills, flag bearer.

Jewels Presented

A delightfully informal time followed, when farewells were said by the retiring officers and presentations were made.

D. Ripley Jackson, retiring watchman of the shepherds, in a serious, humorous talk presented Mrs. Evelyn G. Pierce, retiring worthy high priestess, with the jewel of a past worthy high priestess. It is a tiny cross of pearls centered with a diamond, with crook of gold.

In turn Mrs. Pierce presented Mr. Jackson with the emblem of the past watchman of shepherds, a tiny gold cross and crook.

Other presentations followed, among them being a most fitting one by Mrs. Jennie A. Phillips, worthy matron of Glen Eyrie chapter, O. E. S. On behalf of that organization she presented Mr. and Mrs. Roberts with a basket of red rose buds, a gift of love from the organization which they served as worthy patron and matron.

Remember Assistants

Gifts were also presented by Mr. and Mrs. Roberts to the installing officers and those giving the program.

Assisting Mrs. Evans with the decorating were Luella Emerick, Mayme Brooks, Libbie R. Cutting, Alice J. Elstrodt, Frank Bourne, Joe Evans and others.

Beautiful flowers were carried by those participating in the installation. The women carried arm bouquets of shell pink carnations and the men wore boutonnieres of the same flowers.

Baseball Season Nears
More Rain, More Prosperity
Foot and Mouth Disease
Crown Prince Up Again

By Gil A. Cowan

Baseball fans are eagerly awaiting the first of coast league games, the season opening next Tuesday.

The national pastime is one which everyone can enjoy, whether theey are present or not. It is the talk of the street now and with the major leagues opening shortly we may expect the "bugs" to have nothing else to talk about in their conscious moments.

So much for baseball.

More rain yesterday made the roads slippery, but what of it. The gardens and hills need the water.

Gentle downpours late in the season are more beneficial than heavy rains earlier in the winter. And every drop now means just that much more prosperity for the ranchers.

Prosperity is California's watchword.

The foot and mouth disease, said to have already cost Southern California $3,000,000, is not as serious in its outbreak here as in some of the northern counties.

Every safeguard to prevent a general spread of the malady is being taken by Los Angeles county livestock authorities. Guards are on duty day and night over every highway leading into the county from outside points. One cannot travel over Southern California highways without being stopped and having his car examined at every county line.

There is a certain amount of inconvenience attached to these frequent delays. But the motorist should be glad to co-operate with the livestock inspectors in their efforts to quell the scourge. If the disease breaks out in Los Angeles county herds, it will mean that a wholesale slaughter must follow. One need not point out the seriousness of such a step if that becomes necessary.

News dispatches recite the fact that ultra-monarchists of Germany are anxious to have ex-crown Prince Wilhelm become a candidate for president of the German Republic. His qualifications hardly fit him to head a democratic form of government. His early training did not teach him to act as a servant of the people—rather he was taught that the people should be servile to him. The leaders who are backing his candidacy are doing so, not for the good of the German Republic, but in the hope that by an ascension to power of a member of the Hohenzollern family, the old monarchial form of government will be restored.

Explain Opposition To Immigration Bill

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Japan's opposition to the new immigration bill which bars by statute the entry of Oriental immigrants into the United States, is based on the fact that the new measure gives a death blow to her aspirations of colonizing her surplus peoples in this country, it was declared today by Representative Albert Johnson, Republican, in opening the fight for passage of the measure.

SLIDES RUIN FARMS

MADRID, April 5.—Heavy damage to olive farms from landslides was reported from the Monachil district today. The populace is terror-stricken.

ADOLESCENT AGE SUBJECT OF TALK BY DR. WADDELL

Glendale Mothers Listen to Advice Under Auspices of P.-T. Federation

The University Extension course of lectures which are being given under the auspices of the Glendale Federation of Parent-Teacher Associations are affording the mothers of Glendale an unusual opportunity of becoming better informed relative to the education of children in the schools and also along various phases of education. The lectures are given each Friday morning and are being well attended and Glendale mothers are deriving a real benefit from the course, it is declared.

The lecture given yesterday morning by Dr. Charles W. Waddell on "The Adolescent Period" was an especially helpful and illuminating discussion of the subject.

Turning Point

Some of the outstanding points made by Dr. Waddell were:

"Overwork and the lack of enforcement of the child labor law is a great detriment to the children of the adolescent age especially in later life. The adolescent age is the turning point.

"The children of the ages from 8 to 15, or the adolescent age are misunderstood by the majority of parents and teachers. A great number of pupils oftentimes termed as hopeless in school only need to be better understood by their teachers and need a little more interest taken in their activities and this will of course demand more patience on the part of the teachers. Too much thought cannot be given toward the growth and development of this age.

"The mental, moral and physical growth during this age should be given a great deal of attention as the character and mental development in later life is first established at this age."

Child's Standpoint

"Parents and teachers should think oftentimes from the child's standpoint and remember that they themselves were once children. They must not forget that the child of the adolescent age is undergoing a great change and their growth is more rapid at this time, both in weight and height. Even their brain is undergoing a great change."

"The boy and girl should have something to occupy their time outside of school hours. That does not mean work, but something to keep them out of mischief. They are particularly restless at this age and must have something to think about and to do. The Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts are wonderful organizations for them to become members of and woodcraft and the radio are also doing a great deal to keep them interested."

Need Religion

"At this age the boy and girl have their first religious awakening and the church and religious organizations should have well formed plans for recreation and entertainment to keep the young people interested as the early training has a great influence upon their life in alter years."

"The associates and playmates of the child of this age have much to do with the class of people they will associate with in later life."

The following is a list of books suggested by Dr. Waddell for parents to read for further information on this subject:

"Scouting for Boys, (Baden-Powell); "The Adolescent Girl" (Phyllis Blanchard) dealing with freudian psychology applied to the problems of the girl: "Adolescence" (G. Stanley Hall) giving an exhaustive classical discussion of the whole problem; "Youth" also by G. Stanley Hall, an abridgment of the material in "Adolescence"; "The High School Age," (Irving King), a simple presentation of the characteristics and needs of this age; "The Boy and His Gang," (J. Adams Puffer); "Woodcraft Manual for Boys," (Ernest Thompson Seton) socializing activties for boys and girls; "The Adolescent" (J. W. Slaughter); "Youth and the Race" (Edgar J. Swift); "The Psychology of Adolescence" (Frederick Tracy).

Minimum Estate Tax Restored to Measure

WASHINGTON, April 5.—According to the wishes of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, the Senate finance committee today restored to the tax reduction bill the 25 per cent maximum estate tax which had been boosted to 40 per cent by the House. Testifying before the committee, Mellon said the 40 per cent rate would be "economic suicide."

Wife of Publisher Names Actress In Alienation Brief

NEW YORK, April 5.—Mrs. Eleanor V. Brewster, wife of Eugene V. Brewster, wealthy Brooklyn publisher and author, today filed suit in the supreme court against Miss Corliss Palmer, beautiful motion picture actress, formerly of Georgia, for $200,000 damages for alleged alienation of Brewster's affections.

WOMEN INVADING RESORTS OF MEN

Crowd Tonsorial Parlors in Search of New Styles in Hair Dressing

His matted hair bursts out wildly from under the eaves of a nine gallon sombrero. He walks squatly, saddle-bowed legs cutting convex arcs in the atmosphere.

He opens the door and looks around in amazement. Nothing looks right. He feels like Rip Van Winkle awakening from his lengthy snooze. Even the barbers look more like internes in a hospital, their white aprons spotless. And here, there, everywhere are children, girls, women young and old, all getting hair-cuts.

Seeks Police Gazette

Old Timer sighs and sinks into a seat alongside a flapper of nineteen, who is reading something sketchy in "College Humor." With a sly squint out of the corner of his eye, he looks about for a copy of the "Police Gazette," with which he has whiled away many a half hour of waiting, in days of yore. But alas! The barber shop has discontinued its subscription, taking "Vanity Fair" instead.

Finally Old Timer's turn comes to get his disguise removed. With a last disgruntled snort, he rises to enter the chair, when—

"Oh, sir," comes from a Pretty Thing who has just entered. "Would you mind? I—I've just got to meet Jack in twenty minutes. I—oh, thank you so much!"

Buys Him A Razor

But Old Timer doesn't resume his seat to fumble the pages of "Vanity Fair." He makes his exit with the haste of decision and steers a straight course to the hardware store, where he buys a razor, pouring out his troubles to the clerk in a few well chosen words.

"But hadn't you better take along a pair of scissors" asks the clerk. "What are you going to do about getting your hair cut?"

"I ain't agoin' to git it cut," declares Old Timer, stuffing half a plug of Blacksmith's Arm into his mouth. "I'm a goin' to leave it alone. I reckon if the women take to cuttin' theirs, we kin take to lettin ours grow. That'll even things up!"

He goes out, expectorating in defiance.

Barbers Boost Price

Meanwhile the barbers are reaping a golden harvest. At first they charged the fair sex 50 cents for a hair-cut. Now they are getting 75 cents and and the price may go even higher. In Chicago, it is said, the bobbing business has come to the barber shops in such volume that the price of a shingle bob has been raised to $1.75, with "Castle." "boyish" and other types in proportion to the time required.

It has been estimated that the amount of hair shorn from women's heads in the past twelve months would stuff all the pillows in the Sultan's harem and leave enough over to make a hair mattress big enough for the Man in the Moon.

GAS EQUIPMENT EXHIBIT FOR BETTER HOMES

April 7 to 12

When the President of the United States issued a proclamation on Better Homes, when thirty Governors in thirty states endorsed the movement, and when Herbert Hoover accepted the chairmanship of the Better Homes movement, it implied more than just the proper furnishings for the home. It meant better equipment for the home, the reducing of the overhead, reducing the labor, in conducting the home.

It was with this object in view that the Gas Appliance Society of California is devoting the week of April 7 to 12 to an intensive educational campaign as to the efficiency of gas appliances for the home.

Enterprising dealers of Glendale and others whose announcements appear on this page, invite the people to make them a visit during the week and examine their windows and interior displays.

The show windows, and the floor space of the hardware, furniture and appliance stores will be filled with gas appliances during the special exhibit.

The purpose of this campaign, frankly stated, is to stimulate the use of gas appliances in the home, the public institution, the hotel and restaurant, and the industries. At the same time every home, institution and factory which is led to substitute gas for other fuels will be immeasurably compensated by the substitution. The benefits reach into all departments of home life, economic, social and even religious.

The economic advantages resultant from the use of gas in the home are numerous. They include fuel economy, the saving of the housewife's time and efficiency.

Social Advantages

Among the social advantages are the employment of saved time in self-education and self culture, in attention to other important departments of the home, in association with friends at home, and even at their homes, free afternoons for the lecture room, the bridge party or any other form of entertainment. For it is possible now for the housewife to prepare the menu for dinner, place all the dishes in the one oven, heated by a regulated flame, set the gas log or the furnace at the desired temperature, dress for the afternoon and leave home with no thought of worry, confident that upon her return, the dinner will be cooked as it should be.

On Sunday, when many families insist upon an offering to Epicurus, even at the sacrifice of the housewife, church services need not be neglected. The regulation, automatic and arbitrary, of gas-burning appliances has been brought to that state of perfection which permits the housewife to prepare the courses for dinner, place them in a regulated oven and pay no attention to the stove for hours at a time. She may even go to church and return to a dinner properly cooked and ready for service, after the performance of a few last-minute details.

Everyone Benefits

The dealer then, is not the only one benefited by the stimulation of the use of gas appliances in the home. The buyer not only acquires a good kitchen range, for instance, but also an extension of leisure hours, and opportunities for the pursuit of happiness. Pursuit of happiness is guaranteed by the federal constitution. The opporunity for its pursuit may be furnished by the husband by the purchase of time-saving appliances, the electric sweeper, the washing machine, the gas range, the gas heater. American forefathers so highly regarded the pursuit of happiness as to guarantee it in the constitution. The husband's duty is to provide for his wife the opportunity for this pursuit.

During the Gas Equipment Exhibit for Better Homes all the big hardware, stove and house furnishing stores will display in their windows exhibits of the newest gas appliances, ranges, water heaters, furnaces. Within the store sections will be set aside for the exclusive display of these appliances. They are placed there for inspection. No one need feel reluctant to visit the display because of a false sense of obligation to buy, for, while the opportunity to sell will not be avoided, the prime result to be achieved by the display is of an informative and educational nature.

PROGRAM OF CONCLAVE GIVEN

Realtor Secretaries' Body to Have Busy Time at National Meeting

The real estate board as the body responsible to the community for authoritative real estate information and for civic leadership in the direction of sound industrial, commercial and residential growth will be the leading topic to come before the Realtor Secretaries division of the National Association of Real Estate Boards when it meets as one section of the annual convention of the National Association at Washington, D. C., June 3-6.

The division meetings will bring together the men who make up the executive agents through which real estate boards of the Association carry out their function in 495 cities of the United States and Canada. It will be a national experience meeting not only on what boards can do and should do in relation to the real estate business and to the public but on how they can do it and are doing it. Every man who has as his job the programing of this work and the putting of the work across will have a chance to tell what he has found in his own board's activities and to ask what he wants to know about how the newly developed ideas are working out in the boards which have initiated them.

Chittick To Speak

Richard O. Chittick, executive of the real estate board of New York, will outline the service of the real estate board as an authoritative source of real estate information. Fred B. Brunyate, secretary of the Norfolk Real Estate and Stock Exchange, will lead a general discussion of the subject. Cass Conaway, secretary of the Buffalo Real Estate board, has been asked to open the

Wayside Salesmen, Curbstone Workers Hit by Ordinance

The curbstone real estate salesman will be a thing of the past as soon as the new law passed by the Los Angeles county Board of Supervisors can be enforced A resolution to this effect was adopted by the board of directors of the California Real Estate Association at their last meeting. This ordinance is aimed at the man who sells real estate from the roadside. Supervisor Woodley pointed out that many salesmen for subdivisions in the country solicited for buyers along the highways scattering literature and generally being a source of danger to motorists.

RAIL RATES REDUCTION SHOWN

Freight Costs Are Dropping Slowly, Statistics of Commission Show

That freight rates are coming down appreciably, if slowly, and without drastic general reductions or legislation, is shown by the traffic statistics just issued by the Interstate Commerce Commission for 1923 and furnished the Southern Pacific Company by the "Railway Age."

"There were no very general reductions in rates during 1923," the "Railway Age" points out, "and yet the nation's freight bill was some $248,000,000 less than it would have been if the average rate paid to the roads for transporting a ton one mile had been the same as the average for 1922 and over $607,000,000 less than would have been paid in freight charges at the average rate of 1921.

"The commission's statistics show the average revenue per ton

U. S. WEALTH SHOWS BIG INCREASE

Department of Commerce in Report Lists Values of Commodities

The Department of Commerce announces, for the United States, its preliminary estimate of the value, December 31, 1922, of the principal forms of wealth, the total amounting to $320,803,862,000, as compared with $186,299,664,000 in 1912, an increase of 72.2 per cent. Per capita values increased from $1,950 to $2,918, or 49.6 per cent. The total amount of the estimate for 1912 as here shown is less than the amount shown in the report for that year by $1,439,407,000, due to a revision now made for that year in the value of taxed real property in the state of Oklahoma.

All classes of property increased in value from 1912 to 1922, except livestock, which decreased from $6,238,389,000 to $5,807,104,000, or 6.9 per cent. The estimated value of taxed real property and improvements increased from $96,923,406,000 to $155,908,625,000, or 60.9 per cent; exempt real property (exclusive of national parks and monuments) from $12,313,520,000 to $20,505,819,000, or 66.5 per cent; farm implements and machinery from $1,368,225,000 to $2,604,638,000, or 90.4 per cent; manufacturing machinery, tools and implements from $6,091,451,000 to $15,783,260,000, or 159.1 per cent; and railroads and their equipment from $16,148,532,000 to $19,950,800,000, or 23.5 per cent.

Privately owned transportation and transmission enterprises, other than railroads, increased in value from $9,572,855,000 to $13,607,570,000, or 42.1 per cent; and stocks of goods, vehicles other than motor, furniture and clothing from $34,334,291,000 to $75,983,607,000, or 121.3 per cent. No comparison is possible for the value of motor vehicles, which was estimated in 1922 at $4,567,-

Wanted: Name For This New Airplane

This picture shows workmen busy on DR. T. C. YOUNG'S new five-passenger air craft, which is being built by the Kinner Airplane & Motor Corporation of Glendale. H. H. KINNER is shown in the foreground. Below is a picture of DR. T. C. YOUNG, who is a prominent Glendale physician and surgeon and also an aerial enthusiast. A name is wanted for the new craft, a free ride or $10 in merchandise being the prize to the one making the winning selection.

H. H. Kinner Writes Details Of Machine Being Built For Dr. T. C. Young

By H. H. KINNER,
Written for The Evening News.

A special five passenger airplane now is being built by the Kinner Airplane & Motor Corporation of Glendale for Dr. T. C. Young, prominent physician. It is equipped for long distance trips, the passenger compartment being of the enclosed cabin type. The interior will be finished in mahogany with seats of rattan. A luggage carrier is included in the body at the back and above the rear seats for blankets, tent and camp equipment for the doctor's hunting trips.

Additional space is carried in the rear for an extra wheel and tire. The exterior of the body will be finished with six coats of paint and varnish in Niagara green. This with the natural linen finish of the wings and tail will make a very pretty combination.

Dual Controls

The wing span is thirty-six feet, length twenty-seven feet, height eleven feet. The motor equipment is a 198 horsepower French Renault engine. Eighty gallons of gasoline will be carried, giving a flying radius under ordinary conditions of 600 miles with a speed of ninety miles per hour.

The plane is controlled from the front seat and is provided with dual controls, making it possible for two pilots to relieve one another on a long flight. The machine will be ready for delivery May 1.

About 125 yards of the finest grade of Irish linen will be used to cover the wings and tail while forty gallons of airplane "dope" will be used on the linen to render it waterproof and airtight. To protect the dope and linen two coats of the best varnish available will be used—costing $8 a gallon, indicative of the expense of the machine.

Light and Strong

Asked for my views on airplane manufacture at this time, I would say that the 1924 models are very light and at the same time very strong, requiring only the best of materials. Approximately 50 per cent of the lumber purchased for the construction of airplanes must be thrown away on account of almost invisible defects which the cabinet workers find in dressing it by hand. The work at our plant must pass three different inspectors before it is

Would You Like to Ride In New Aircraft? Here Is Good Opportunity

By GIL A. COWAN
Of The Evening News Staff.

Wanted: A name for the latest airplane creation of the Kinner Airplane & Motor corporation, which is manufacturing a wonderful new machine here at the Glendale airport for Dr. T. C. Young, well-known surgeon of this city. This being a Glendale-built flying machine, designed and manufactured in every particular, except for the motor, right here "at home," Dr. Young is offering a two-way prize for a name.

For those who crave a thrill he offers a sixty-mile ride in the new sky-skimming limousine if they are the winners of the name contest. Should the naming be done by someone more modest, a $10 merchandise order on the Hatz Specialty shop will be given as a reward.

Something Distinctive

There are names—and names—for airplanes, but this machine is something distinctive and the doctor believes it should have a christening and everything. Also, he wants those interested in aviation to visit the Glendale airport and look at an industry which is

Crozier Is Elected Honolulu Board Head

National Vice President C. C. C. Tatum, who as state president in September, 1922, organized the real estate board in Honolulu which won the attendance prize at the Sacramento convention, has received notice of the election of C. C. Crozier to be president of the board.

President Henry P. Barbour is planning to pay a visit to the Honolulu board during his administration, and hopes to greet every one of the members there. The Honolulu Realty Board holds a membership in the state association and is also affiliated with the national association. Three of its members were at Sacramento, including Secretary W. L. Morgan.

Buys New Residence In Bellehurst Park

The purchase by Glen K. Smith, vice president and manager of the Standard Fence company of Los Angeles, of a home in Bellehurst Park, situated at 1215 North Geneva street, marks the sale of the last of three homes that were built by the Walter H. Leimert company from the designs of the noted architect, Carlton Winslow. Mr. Smith, it is stated, expects to bring to Glendale a number of his office staff, who will make their homes here.

The sale was made through J. A. Hunneman, realtor, 700 South Brand boulevard.

Improvements In Acacia Hills Are Causing Activity

With carpenters, bricklayers and plumbers industriously rushing the completion of the many new homes, street gangs and public utility companies busily installing improvements, and visitors crowding the property to register in the drawing for the free grand piano, beautiful Acacia Hills of late has been the very center of activity.

Each succeeding day has seen some further step completed in the improvement program outlined by Karle W. Martin, sales agent for the tract.

Today the property is fast approaching that ideal home community atmosphere typical of Glendale's phenomenal expansion. Already four homes have been practically completed and plans drawn up for the immediate construction of 15 more. Correspondingly the installation of improvements is being rushed through. Gas, water, electricity and telephone connections are now being installed. Initial grading work has been practically complete, while curbings, sidewalks and streets will soon be laid.

Increased Activity

"The combination of all these factors," said Karle W. Martin, "has resulted in an ever-increasing activity at Acacia Hills. Without a doubt a good percentage of it is due to the interest created by our $1000 Grand Piano prize and yet an even larger percentage can be attributed to permanent developments and improvements.

"It was with a view of introducing beautiful Acacia Hills to nearby residents that we decided on this free prize. There are no strings or restrictions to our offer. It is open to every adult. We only ask them to come to the property, see for themselves beautiful Acacia Hills, register, and be on hand for the final awarding of the prize.

Sold on Merits

"It has been proven to us by actual experience that homeseekers or investors only have to visit the property to become sold on its merits. Actual figures from our office show that we have maintained a phenomenal closing figure once clients have looked over the advantages and opportunities offered at beautiful Acacia Hills. Picture beautiful rolling property only 4 minutes from the heart of Glendale and 30 minutes from 7th and Broadway, surrounded on every side by highly-improved property and offering an unsurpassed view of the Verdugo and San Fernando valleys, the Sierra Madre mountains and Hollywood Hills. Then you will appreciate why Acacia Hills has been acclaimed one of the most beautiful, close-in properties in the history of Glendale's remarkable development.

"That is why we want you to visit beautiful Acacia Hills. Come as our guest and register for the $1000 Grand Piano."

APPOINTS COMMITTEE

President J. H. Davison of the Realty Salesmen of Sacramento, has appointed a "On to Pasadena" committee to co-operate with the Sacramento, Stockton, Oakland and San Francisco and other boards. This is the first state convention caravan committee to be announced in the north. The Sacramento salesmen plan to attend the Pasadena convention in a body, and will have at least twenty-five in their delegation. They will come via Stockton, Modesto, Fresno and Bakersfield, and hope to have the honor of leading a caravan of more than 200 realtors.

PLAN COURSE TO SECURE LICENSE

Many Realtors Working to Obtain Diploma Must Pass Hard Tests

By HARRISON LEWIS
Chairman, Educational Committee, California Real Estate Assn.

Enthusiastic manner in which the various realty boards throughout the state are receiving the educational course which is being conducted by the California Real Estate association and the University of Southern California is proving a big success.

President Henry P. Barbour of the California Real Estate association is determined that no stone shall be left unturned and that every possible aid shall be given by the state association to raise the standard of those engaged in the real estate business and it is for this reason that the educational courses are being given throughout the state.

Series of Lessons

Arrangements have been made by which the University of Southern California, which is co-operating with the California Real Estate association in this educational movement, will give a series of twenty lessons each, each of which will be complete in itself and divided into two semesters, one to be given this spring and the second this fall, to be followed up by the first semester again. These lessons are the result of many years of pioneering research work by the university and all available data and educational information that could be gathered together has been condensed and embodied in these lessons.

After completion of the second semester of twenty lessons, to be graded jointly by the educational state committee of the California Real Estate association and the University of Southern California, those receiving an average of 70 or more will be awarded a diploma which will certify that they are graduate real estate brokers.

Others Invited

The various local real estate boards who are organizing these classes are inviting all of those who are engaged in allied professions, such as bankers and escrow clerks, to join with them in these classes, and many applications are being received from those.

There is no question since we have seen the enthusiastic manner in which the local real estate boards throughout the state have received this educational program that the state educational committee is destined to become the most important and outstanding movement of its kind in the United States.

HEAVY RAIN AIDS CROP PROSPECT

Southern Half of State Is Helped; Fruit Growers To Suffer Losses

SACRAMENTO, April 5.—Noted improvement in the condition of agriculture in general during the past fortnight is due to very generous rains that fell in most of the important agricultural districts of the state, according to the bulletin issued by E. E. Kaufman, chief of the federal-state crop reporting service.

Heaviest precipitation occurred in the southern half of the state, where needs were most urgent, though Northern California received sufficient rain to be of much value. A good supply of snow is reported as having fallen in the Sierras, which will do much to relieve the expected shortage of water for spring irrigation.

Cattle Are Poor

Range feed in the northern half of the state, more particularly in the coast counties, is in good condition, but in the San Joaquin valley and Southern California pasture is poor. Grass is short and in some districts almost entirely lacking. As a result, livestock is in poor condition except where being fed.

Despite the generous rains of the closing week of March, grain prospects in the southern half of the state are far below normal. Light yields also are in prospect on the west side of the San Joaquin valley, the Tulare lake district and the Ducor section in Tulare county, except on irrigated acreage. The grain outlook is more promising in the Sacramento valley, especially on the lowlands. Grain sown on the high lands will need more moisture to bring it to maturity.

Regarding the injury done to deciduous fruits by recent frosts, Kaufman said:

Losses in Fruit

"Deciduous fruit growers in several localities in the northern half of the state have suffered considerable loss as a result of the frosts that occurred on March 2-24. Fruit in Sutter, Butte, Sacramento, Merced, San Joaquin and Stanislaus counties was probably hardest hit, though more or less damage is reported from other counties.

"The damage to the cling peach crop in Sutter county is estimated by some reporters at 75 per cent. About 40 per cent of the state cling peach crop is usually produced in Sutter county. Growers in Butte, Yuba and Sacramento counties also suffered, though the frost was not quite so severe in those counties. Other peach-growing districts were injured but slightly, if at all, and the damage to the entire state will probably amount to less than 30 per cent for the peach crop as a whole.

"Apparently the greatest damage to the almond crop occurred in Butte, Sacramento, Stanislaus and San Joaquin counties, which produce about 35 per cent of the state crop. Fifty per cent damage is reported from these counties. Yolo and Solano report some injury.

Other Districts

"In the heavy producing districts the damage to apricots from frost is reported light.

"Pears in Sacramento county, which normally produces 23 per cent of the crop, have suffered injury to 30 per cent. Considering the state as a whole the loss will be comparatively small.

"A 50 per cent crop of plums is estimated for Sacramento county. Placer and Solano, both heavy producers, apparently escaped loss. Cherries were damaged 50 per cent in San Joaquin county, with lesser injury in the cherry-growing counties of the Sacramento valley.

Damage to the grape crop from frost is reported negligible."

It's New! Selling Real Estate On Horseback!

A. E. BARON, "the horseback salesman," to the right of the picture, looking over a tract map of Sparr Heights, and J. R. THORPE, proprietor of the Oakmont Saddle stables, pointing off across the green Verdugo hills, doubly beautiful now that the spring rains have come. Mr. Baron is sales manager for Sparr Heights at 200 East Broadway, Glendale agents for the Sparr Heights tract. He holds the distinction of being the only known horseback salesman in Southern California.

More Than Score Of New Homes Are Planned For Glen Oaks Subdivision

With twenty-five new homes planned and all utilities in at Glen Oaks, plus the announcement by John R. Powers of the Glen Oaks syndicate that a bus line will be operated from the tract to the electric cars, this beautiful Scholl canyon tract steps into an era of intensive development.

With the continued rains, Glen Oaks has become delightful beyond words," says Mr. Powers. "The thousands of live oaks and sycamores, and the myriad blooming wild flowers, the tangle of richly green undergrowth, make it an ideal spot to take the family for a day's outing.

Public Welcome

"In answer to the many inquiries, we want to make it clearly understood that the public is welcome to come to Glen Oaks, bring their lunch and stay as long as they want, with no obligation to talk with the salesmen and with no fear of being molested.

"The beauties of the tract will suggest to thoughtful visitors that the time to secure home sites is now, before the choicest locations are gone. Hundreds of wonderful homes are to be built here within the next few months. Many are already under construction.

"A visit to Glen Oaks, whether to picnic or to seek a site for the ideal home, will richly repay anyone the few minutes it will take to get there and back, not more than five minutes each way, by auto, from the corner of Brand boulevard and Broadway."

The tract is reached by driving north on Verdugo road to Sycamore Canyon drive, then east to Sierra avenue and thence to the tract.

Reduction Shown in Rail Freight Rates

mile received by the class 1 railroad for 1923 to have been 1.116 cents, as compared with 1.176 cents in 1922 and 1.253 cents in 1921. The latter year was the one in which the average was the highest it has been in recent years because the general advance made by the Interstate Commerce Commission in 1920 was in effect only during the last four months of that year. As compared with 1921, therefore, the average rate paid last year represents a reduction of 11.6 per cent and as compared with 1922, during which year some rather general reductions were made, both by order of the Interstate Commerce Commission and voluntarily by the railroads, the average for 1923 represents a reduction of about 5 per cent.

"These are small figures, but when a ton of freight can be hauled a distance of one mile for hardly more than half the cost of a postage stamp, the difference in this small unit is not pronounced. When multiplied by the 413,562,132,000 ton miles of freight handled by the railroads last year, however, the slight reduction per ton mile makes an appreciable showing, probably a greater one than would result in the long run from some of the impracticable legislative schemes that have been advanced.

Unfairness Claimed

"Incidentally, the unfairness of attributing the fact, that transportation still costs more than it used to, to any so-called guaranty of the transportation act, is strikingly shown when it is recalled that the railroads fell considerably short, even in this year of record-breaking traffic, of earning what the commission has held to be fair return on the value of their property and that they would not have fallen short if their average receipts per ton mile had been even the same as in 1922."

Expert Tells About Building Big Plane

used and we allow for no weakness in the finished product.

While the reconstruction period following the war in which enconomic adjustments were necessary have undoubtedly held back the airplane industry, we believe the time has arrived for it to forge ahead and become one of the biggest and most stable manufacturing enterprises of the world and Southern California in particular.

Speed! More Speed!

The world requires faster transportation and the airplane is the answer. As soon as the general public is convinced that fewer people are killed "per mile traveled" in air than in any other mode of transportation they will surely go by air. Flying trips not only save time, but the passengers arrive at their destination fresh and clean when riding in an air limousine.

San Francisco is only five hours away from Los Angeles by air. San Diego one hour and fifteen minutes.

A. E. Baron, Former Member Of Crack Regiment In World War, Has Stunt That Is Real Novelty To Numerous Homeseekers

By H. THOMPSON RICH
Of The Evening News Staff.

A. E. Baron, "the horseback salesman," has uncorked something new under the sun. As sales manager for the Glendale office of the Sparr Heights tract, 200 East Broadway, he found that many of the most beautiful sections of this great development in north Glendale could be seen to better advantage from the saddle of a horse than from the tonneau of an automobile.

Mr. Baron accordingly made arrangements with J. R. Thorpe, proprietor of the Oakmont Saddle stables, so that any prospective buyer wishing to look over Sparr Heights with him on horseback may do so at any time.

In Crack Regiment

Himself an excellent rider, formerly of the Third Field Artillery, A. E. F., one of the crack regiments of the United States forces in the late war, and with a long record of expert horsemanship behind him, Mr. Baron conceived the idea that he might capitalize this experience in a way that would prove a real novelty to home-seekers who like to ride, at the same time solving one of the biggest problems that has had to be met at Sparr Heights, that of reaching the many beautiful hillside lots beyond reach of the present roads.

"While we are pushing road construction to the very limit," says Mr. Baron, "it is right that our first operations should be confined to the level sections. Ultimately every lot in the great tract will be served with a high class road. Meanwhile there are some of our finest sections that cannot well be reached by motor car, particularly the high knoll back of the Oakmont Country club.

"With the conception of taking home-seekers through the tract on horseback, this problem has been solved most happily. As for horses, there is a string of sixteen to select from, offering everything from an animal that a child can ride up to the finest five-pace Kentucky thoroughbreds. Last Sunday I took a large party around the tract and they admitted they had never before obtained any real conception of the scenic beauty that abounds at Sparr Heights."

Mr. Baron may be reached at Sparr Heights office, 200 East Broadway, by all who care to arrange horseback parties to look over the tract.

Expert In Charge

J. R. Thorpe, proprietor of the Oakmont Saddle stables, states that all instruction in horsemanship is now in charge of Jim Gethen, who just recently sold out the Beverly Hills Riding stables, which he had owned for the past seven years. He is assisting Mr. Thorpe in the management of his stables.

For seventeen years prior to his association with the Beverly Hills Riding stables. Mr. Gethen owned and operated one of the largest saddle stables in the west, furnishing mounts for riding tours through the Golden Gate park, San Francisco.

An accompanying picture of the plane gives an inkling as to what it will be like. In another column H. H. Kinner writes detailed information about the air chariot. Your suggestions for a name should be mailed to the Kinner Airplane & Motor corporation, Glendale Airport, Glendale, Calif.

"Ford of the Air"

Mr. Kinner also is the inventor of the "Airster," a miniature plane which he proposes to manufacture on a large scale. This machine will be of especial interest to flying enthusiasts as it is known as "the Ford of the air." About a half dozen planes are to be seen at the hangars at the airport, which is reached by San Fernando road, turning west on Grand View avenue across the Southern Pacific railroad tracks, West Glendale.

The Kinner Airplane & Motor corporation is now the oldest established manufactory of flying machines in the southwest, Mr. Kinner having been building planes since 1918, and every one of his models has been a success in every sense of the word.

Report Shows Wealth in U. S. Is Increased

407,000, because no separate estimate was made in 1912.

Navy Value Increases

The value of the United States navy increased from $402,352,000 to $1,445,992,000, or 259.4 per cent; that of privately owned waterworks from $290,000,000 to $360,885,000, of 24.4 per cent; and that of gold and silver coin and bullion from $2,616,643,000 to $4,278,155,000, or 63.5 per cent. These three items have not been distributed to states, but appear only in the totals for the United States.

In making these estimates the department followed in general the methods employed in making the estimates for 1912, though it is believed that in some respects the work in 1922 has been more thorough. It should be borne in mind that the increases in money value are to a large extent due to the rise in prices which has taken place in recent years, and so far as that is the case they do not represent corresponding increases in the quantity of wealth.

PLAYERS RENDER SHAW COMEDY IN BRILLIANT STYLE

'You Never Can Tell' Greeted With Applause by Big Audience at Club

The very clever presentation of Bernard Shaw's comedy drama, "You Never Can Tell," at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse last nght by the Drama department of the club, with the assistance of other talented artists, again demonstrated that Glendale is rich in talent and can produce a play equal to many professionals.

The play in Shaw's most brilliant and satirical style, giving opportunity for some very clever character work on the part of the players, was personally directed by Granville Forbes Sturgis, who recently directed the successful production of "Mice and Men," given under the auspices of the Community Service of Glendale, and was a finished and artistic performance.

Mrs. Chas. Gowan was delightful as one of "the Clandon twins" and was one of the hits of the evening.

Mrs. H. C. Vandewater as Mrs. Clandon cleverly delineated the type of woman the early suffrage days produced, while Mrs. Malvern Barker, as Gloria Clandon, depicted the complexities of the feminine mind in a most charming manner. The costumes worn by the three were beautiful and most artistic.

Brewster Scores

Howard Brewster, head of the dramatic department of the Glendale High school, again scored a success. As "William the Waiter" he presented wonderfully fine character work.

Geo. E. Jensen, who made a record last year in the Senior play in the Glendale High school, as the young dentist made an irresistible lover, while Louis Sargent of Hollywood, as "the other twin," was the delight of the audience with his irrepressible collaboration with his twin sister "Dolly."

Gould Warren, as Mr. Fergus Crampton, husband of Mrs. Clandon and father of the twins, gave a good representation of an irascible gentleman who got all that was coming to him. Harry Murphy as the family solicitor, and Marion Morrison, a lawyer, both of whom made records in the "Dulcy" cast, did excellent character work.

To Mrs. Harry Lockwood as the maid and also serving as manager of stage properties, a great deal of credit for the smoothness of the performance is due.

Music Is Feature

The Glendale Musical Trio—Hedwig Sharkey, violin; Grace Calkins, cello, and Gladys Lott, pianist-director—added much to the pleasure of the audience by the musical program rendered.

To Mrs. Max Lynn Green, curator of the department, whose enthusiasm and untiring efforts cannot be measured, much credit is due for the splendid work of the department.

Others who contributed largely to the success of the entertainment were Mrs. L. E. Gates, chairman of tickets; Mrs. C. O. Kling, chairman of publicity; and Mrs. Colin Cable, who had charge of the ushers.

The play will be given tonight at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse and a large attendance is expected as several other entertainments kept a number of friends of the department from attending the first night.

The cast of characters was as follows:

Mr. Valentine, the dentist, George E. Jansen; Dolly Clandon, one of the twins, Mrs. Charles Gowan; Maid, Mrs. Harry Lockwood; Philip Clandon, the other twin, Lewis Sargent; Mrs. Langfrey Clandon, Mrs. H. C. Vandewater; Gloria Clandon, Mrs. Malvern Barker; Mr. Fergus Crampton, Gould Warren; William, the waiter, Harold Brewster; Finch McComas, the family solicitor, Harry Murphy; Bohun, the lawyer, Marion Morrison. Music: Glendale Musical Trio—Gladys H. Lott, piano-director.

The scenes were laid: First act—In a dentist's office; second act, on the terrace of the Marine hotel; third act, a private apartment in the hotel; fourth act, same.

Three Injured When Automobiles Crash

In a serious automobile accident at the corner of Los Angeles street and Honolulu avenue, in Montrose, yesterday morning shortly before noon, three people received injuries when a car driven by Jack Highley of Tujunga was overturned after colliding with another machine driven by E. C. Bozarth of Verdugo City.

The collision occurred at the intersection, and was due to a misunderstanding, it is said. Mr. Highley and his wife, with Mrs. Mary Liller of Tujunga, in the car which was overturned, received numerous cuts and bruises. They were removed to their homes in other machines and their wounds dressed. The machine was badly wrecked.

Ex-U. S. Consul Will Lecture on Inca Art

George L. Cooper, former vice-consul in Lima, Peru, is to speak Sunday afternoon at the meeting of the Glendale Art association at the Public Library on "Inca Art."

The meeting begins at 4 o'clock and Mr. Cooper's talk will be illustrated with a set of slides of Inca art and architecture.

Head Of Endicott Arms Apartment Hotel Company Reports Sales Are Heavy

A total of fifty-three out of the 180 apartments in the fourteen-story apartment hotel to be erected on North Brand boulevard at Lexington drive have been sold, reports President C. N. Coverdale of the Endicott Arms Apartment company at that address.

"Such a volume of sales in the short time this opportunity has been before the public is far beyond our expectations," says Mr. Coverdale. "Many Glendale residents are among those fifty-three apartment owners in the Endicott Arms, in addition to those from other communities who have selected this beautiful structure as their future home.

"When one realizes that a person paying $75 a month rent ACTUALLY PAYS for a $20,000 home in fifteen years and has nothing to show for it but a pile of musty receipts—it behooves every rent payer to sit up and take notice. For a small down payment and $75 a month one can purchase a triple apartment suite in the Endicott Arms and have gas, electricity, water, ice, heat, telephone, taxes, insurance, maid, porter and janitor services, all paid for and included in the $75 monthly payment—and in fifteen years 'Your Home Is Your Own.'

Offers Only Best

"The 'Own Your Own' apartment home as exemplified in the Endicott Arms in Glendale is an old idea in a new way, and offers the very latest in household science, with the trouble and worry eliminated, and the wishes and aims of the housewife anticipated. Labor-saving devices, and maid, porter and janitor service, minimize the irksome part of the household work and give more time to enjoy the 'great outdoors' and the beauties of California.

"Think of those times when you have yearned for a home without the cares and worries of housekeeping!

"Those who have reserved their apartment at the opening prices are now congratulating themselves. With the 10 per cent advance in prices effective April 1, and the future increase in values certain to be realized upon completion of the building, they know that they have made a sound investment, as well as the purchase of a home. The investment feature of owning several 'Own Your Own' apartments in the Endicott Arms furnishes the utmost in a safe and sound investment, and numerous sales have been made to those who will arrange a suite to their own liking and lease the others, and thus have a perpetual income, without even the cares of supervising their property.

"The own-your-own-apartment idea, as it relates to the convenience and satisfaction of co-operatively owned apartments, has come to have a recognized place in the financing and construction of homes in many American cities, it has been determined.

"So active a factor in the construction of new housing has the tenant-owned apartment building become that a special section is now being organized within the National Association of Real Estate Boards for the development of the best practices nationally in organization, financing, sale and operation of co-operatively-owned apartment buildings.

"The plan of ownership of apartment buildings by a group of people living in the buildings is already thirty years old in New York, has been practised ten years in Chicago, is widely used in Washington, D. C., and is coming into use in every large city of the country, and in some of the smaller cities.

"The plan has been in use in Europe for centuries, the division study finds. Economy of operation combines with the apartment dweller's traditional freedom from 'chores' in making the own-your-own apartment idea a useful solution of the housing problem for many city dwellers. Experience of the workings of the plan by which tenants become their own landlords has proved not only a way to meet a real human need in home-finding, but a method of ownership economically sound.

"Cost of a desirable place to live is cut by almost one-half through the co-operative method of apartment ownership, the division reports. Twenty to 40 per cent of rental expense is saved by the plan, Savings' it is pointed out, are due to the fact that tenant ownership eliminates the following: Losses from vacant apartments, losses from uncollectable rents, expense of management, advertising, etc. Cost of excessive decorating and repairs demanded by tenants, repairs made necessary by frequent shifting of tenants.

"In addition to saving the costs of fellow-renters' eccentricities, shifted by the landlord onto the rent bill, the owner of a co-operatively operated apartment saves any profit which the owner of a rented building would make on his investment, the report adds.

"And if the home owner whose home is built under one roof with the homes of other families wants to 'fix up the place,' the place is his, to exercise his individual tastes upon."

Optimism Seen In Trade Circles Of Southwest As Result Of Recent Rains

An undertone of conservative optimism pervades the business community of the Pacific Southwest as a result of the heavy rains during the last week of March, is the statement made in the Monthly Summary of Conditions in the Pacific Southwest, compiled by the Research Department of The First National Bank of Los Angeles, the Pacific Southwest Trust & Savings Bank and the First Securities Company, and released for publication today.

While the precipitation was not sufficient to provide a normal seasonal rainfall, the report continues, it came at a very auspicious time for many agriculturalal producers, and has materially improved the prospects for agricultural output, easier credits, and a revival of business turnover. In spite of these improvements a note of caution is still evident in business commitments and no rapid expansion in activities can be expected during the next few months.

Agricultural conditions generally have improved during March, due to intermittent showers during the last week. In many districts where the rains did not come sufficiently early to permit a normal planting of field crops a slight tightness of credit is evident, but as a whole the situation should be relieved.

More Farm Products

Agricultural production will undoubtedly be larger than was feared would be the case a month ago. The prospects for the 1924 fruit, nut and vegetable crops are distinctly better and the livestock outlook will be somewhat improved with the new growth of feed on the ranges. The possibility of a shortage of water for irrigation and power purposes is partly alleviated, although the exact situation will not be known until the Railroad Commission's report is available. A material increase in cotton acreage in the Pacific-Southwest is assured, but it is evident that production of the bean, sugar beet and grain crops will be far from normal.

The markets for agricultural products as a rule have remained firm or have strengthened during March. Citrus prices, while influenced by unsettled weather conditions throughout the east, became stronger during the closing days of the month. The dried and canned fruit markets are steady and carryovers are being constantly reduced. Bean prices have continued at high levels and the vegetable markets have been firm or advancing.

Although the livestock industry will benefit from the recent precipitation, there is little likelihood of sufficient feed to finish fat cattle this year on the ranges in Southern California. Supplies of finished livestock in the Pacific-Southwest for California markets during the next few months will be light, and higher markets on finished products are expected.

Improvement Shown

Production and distribution of goods has proceeded cautiously during March, and the volume of output while large, will probably not exceed the February level. Retail sales improved during the closing week, although sluggish during the earlier part of the month. Wholesale trade has not changed appreciably from that of the preceding month. Industrial output proceeded at previous levels but with a tendency toward slackening. Building permits were large in Los Angeles city, but construction and real estate activity throughout the territory is definitely less than in previous months. The petroleum industry has largely marked time awaiting the development of new fields.

The banking position of the Pacific-Southwest is practically unchanged from that of a month ago. The demand for credit has strengthened somewhat and interest rates have remained strong. Deposits have held up well, with only minor evidences of lower levels in the agricultural communities.

In general, however, the stimulating effects of the rainfall have tended to materially reduce the somewhat excessive amount of pessimism which has been evident in some quarters, and while 1924 will probably be primarily a year of economic adjustment, the present situation gives increasing evidence as to the basic soundness of the economic structure of the Pacific-Southwest.

MUCH POWER SOLD

More electric power was sold in the United States last year than ever before, largely because of its increased use in households as well as industries.

A hair brush made entirely of metal, the bristles being of fine steel wire, will last a lifetime, says the inventor.

COOKERY EXPERT TO GIVE LESSONS

Jewel City Plumbing Co. to Stage Demonstration Of Sanico Range

The Jewel City Plumbing company, 526 East Broadway, will have a cooking demonstration on the famous SanicO ranges Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. All demonstrations will be given by Mrs. Rose Konover, who is nationally known as an authority on cooking and especially well versed on thermostatic oven heat control, a device which comes on the SanicO.

All Glendale women interested in the general improvement of their cooking and in lessening their work are cordially invited to attend these helpful lectures and demonstrations.

Special price for Gas Appliance Week on high oven, semi-porcelain range of $39.

"The SanicO range represents the result of the evolution of the gas range industry," states F. R. Bruner, who with G. L. Berryman is proprietor of the plumbing establishment, "and government tests prove it to be the acme of perfection. It is the only range bearing an actual 25-year guarantee against rusting, and it was only after a thorough investigation by the American Gas association, of which the manufacturers are members, that this guarantee could be offered. Being all porcelain, they are easily cleanable and can be washed like a china dish. Soap and water do not harm the parts in any way, as the special process of the manufacturers used in the preparation of the porcelain makes it the greatest rust-resister used on any range. For beauty, service and quality, the SanicO is unexcelled, and its 25-year bona fide guarantee against oven or other parts rusting through is burned into the oven door of every range."

Hard Wood Floors Becoming More Popular With All

Twenty years ago it was only in palatial residences that one heard of hardwood floors. Ten years ago it was customary to lay hardwood floors in the front rooms of the average home. Today, all up-to-date homes have hardwood floors in every room, says Vernon C. Tennis, who is located at 108 W. Colorado Blvd.

The woods used mostly for modern floors are maple, beach, oak, gum and cedar. Housewives all prefer hardwood floors on account of their superior appearance, and the ease with which they can be kept clean.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY WASHES THE DISHES

There sounded a knock on the door of the hollow stump bungalow one evening, just as Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy was washing the supper dishes.

"Will you please see who that is, Wiggily, my dear?" asked the muskrat lady housekeeper. "My paws are all soap. But if it's the Fuzzy Fox don't let him in."

"Indeed, and you don't need to tell me that!" laughed the rabbit gentleman.

However, it wasn't the Fox—it was Mrs. Twistytail, the lady pig.

"Oh, Nurse Jane!" grunted Mrs. Twistytail, as she wrinkled up her funny, rubbery nose, "are you going to the movies this evening?"

"Why, we hadn't thought of going," Nurse Jane answered, as she looked at Mr. Longears. "What's the picture?"

"It's a lovely film, about monkeys and peanuts," said Mrs. Twistytail.

"I've seen that," spoke Uncle Wiggily quickly.

"Oh!" sighed Nurse Jane, for she hadn't seen it.

"But don't let that spoil the evening for you ladies," went on the rabbit gentleman politely. "Go along to the picture, Janie! It's very funny.

"So I've heard," grunted Mrs. Twistytail. "And, if we go now, Nurse Jane, we'll be in time for the first show and we'll get out early and have some chocolate at Ye Olde Shoe Shoppee."

"I'd like to," sighed the muskrat lady, "but all these dishes to wash and they aren't half finished——"

"Never mind the dishes!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily. "I'll wash them for you, Nurse Jane. Then I'll go to a second show at some other movie place. Hop along, now."

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily, this is so good of you!" cried Nurse Jane, as she dried her soapy paws on a towel. She got a little soap in one eye, but she soon washed it off.

So while Mrs. Twistytail and the muskrat lady went to the movies, Uncle Wiggily rolled up his sleeves and started to wash the dishes. He picked a plate out of the soapy water and the first thing he knew that plate went slipping out of his paws and slid half way across the floor.

"Whoa, there! Back up!" cried the bunny rabbit, as if the plate was a pony.

And the plate stopped sliding when it felt like it—not before.

"Hum! It's lucky it didn't break!" said the rabbit. "I guess I must have a little too much soap in the water." He picked out a cup and was going to set it on the table, when, all of a sudden, the cup took a spin out of his paws and flew up in the air.

"Stop! Stop!" cried the bunny, as though he were a traffic policeman and the cup a runaway automobile.

The cup went up, and the cup came down. It came down on the floor and broke into a dozen pieces, some of them falling on Uncle Wiggily's foot.

"Oh, now I've done it!" cried the rabbit. "I've broken one of Nurse Jane's best teacups. I'm glad she isn't here. I'm glad that cup wasn't a big, heavy dish. For if it was it would have smashed my paw. I'm lucky—in some ways. I must be more careful."

So Uncle Wiggily washed the dishes more slowly, but still he had so much soap in the water that he nearly dropped a saucer.

"Come back here! None of your tricks!" cried the bunny, and he caught the saucer just in time.

And then, all of a sudden, the outer door was pushed open and in came the Fox, who began looking around the kitchen most curiously.

"Hello!" said the Fox. "I thought some one was here."

"Well, I'm here!" spoke Uncle Wiggily, his paws in the soapy, sudsy dishwater.

"No, I mean some one besides you. I thought some one else was here," went on the Fox.

"Well, you're here," said the bunny, "though I wish you weren't. I can get along without you."

"No, I mean some one else," barked the Fox. "To whom were you talking as you washed the dishes?"

"I was talking to myself," said the bunny. "What do you want, anyhow, Mr. Fox.

"I want to nibble your ears!" howled the Fox.

"First you must help me wash the dishes," said the bunny. "Take out that big dish and dry it on the towel."

The bunny pointed to a large,

My toe is broken!" howled the Fox heavy vegetable dish. The Fox took it from the pan, but the dish was so slippery from soap that it slipped from his paws.

"Bang!" down fell the dish, but, instead of hitting the floor it hit the Fox on his hairy paw, and bounced up, so that Uncle Wiggily caught the dish, and it wasn't broken. But, oh, what a whacking blow the dish gave the Fox on his paw! Wow! Wow!

"Ouch! Wow! Oh, ice cream cones!" howled the Fox. "My toe is broken! My toe is broken! I'll have to go to the doctor!" And out of the bungalow he limped, not stopping to nibble the rabbit at all.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed Mr. Longears as he locked the door. "It's a good thing I stayed home to wash the dishes." And when they were finished he went to the second movie show.

So this teaches us that housework, though very tiresome, is sometimes useful. And, if the piece of toast doesn't get all black so it looks like a minstrel show, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's April Fool.

Poems That Live

TO LEVEN WATER

Pure stream, in whose transparent wave
My youthful limbs I wont to lave;
No torrents stain thy limpid source,
No rocks impede thy dimpling course.
Devolving from thy parent lake
A charming maze thy waters make,
By bowers of birch and groves of pine
And edges flower'd with eglantine.

Still on thy banks so gaily green
May numerous herds and flocks be seen,
And lassies chanting o'er the pail,
And shepherds piping in the dale,
And ancient faith that knows no guile,
And industry embrown'd with toil,
And hearts resolved and hands prepared
The blessings they enjoy to guard.

Loves Her Home Best

Mrs. Curtis D. Wilbur, wife of the new Secretary of the Navy, believes in making her husband and her sons and daughter happy and comfortable in their home life. Picture shows Mrs. Wilbur in the kitchen of her San Francisco home.

Mrs. Curtis D. Wilbur, wife of the new secretary of the navy, believes woman's place is in the home. She has figured but little in society in California, where her husband was chief justice of the state supreme court until he resigned to succeed Edwin Denby in the cabinet, and it is believed she will play but a small part in the doings of Washington's gay official set. Mrs. Wilbur was Miss Olive Doolittle, daughter of a noted New York Presbyterian minister.

Timely Views

NEWSPAPERS OF COUNTRY AS A WHOLE CLEAN, IS ANSWER OF N. Y. TIMES OWNER

It is quite frequently charged that the great newspapers of this country are under capitalistic control and are conducted solely to promote the so-called vested interests. A recent statement was made by Prof. Edward A. Ross, of the University of Wisconsin, that he had directed a study of 15 newspapers and found 10 of the owners capitalistic.

Adolph S. Ochs, president of the New York Times, replied to the statement.

"We hear that cry from many sources," he said. "The newspapers of this country as a whole are clean. They are not influenced by the moneyed interests. If he means by capitalism that they are influenced—they are. There can be no great newspaper today unless it has plenty of capital behind it. It takes money—lots of money—to run a newspaper in these times the way the newspapers are now being run.

"A newspaper that serves its readers with the latest news, employs large staffs of reporters and correspondents and editors and pays big telegraph bills and cablegram bills and keeps up-to-date machinery and occupies great and expensive downtown buildings, and has agencies in various parts of the city, must have big money back of it or it would not run very long.

"It is true that many of the newspapers make money. They make a great deal of money for their owners. But what is money? Its face value is nothing at all. The value of money is what you can do with it. Undoubtedly some men with vast amounts of money misuse it, but I honestly believe that the majority of the men of great wealth have other motives in life than to just spend millions of dollars recklessly and in extravagant living. I believe the majority of millionaires want to make the best use they can of their money to help the world.

Ochs Defined News

"Advertisements can be news. In fact, we try to get our advertisers to present the news. Nearly everybody reads the advertisements—all are interested in knowing where they can purchase certain things. The real estate advertisements are news. The want advertisements are news. The lost and found column is news. Once I was asked what would happen to a newspaper if it only printed advertisements, and I replied that I could print a newspaper filled only with advertisements and get a larger circulation than a newspaper printed with only news and no advertisements. The letters to the editor, ofttimes criticising the editor, are news.

"But the news that you get in your newspaper comes from all over the world. And that news should be accurate so far as possible.

"The Associated Press of the United States serves 1700 newspapers, and when you speak of the press of America you are speaking to a large extent of the Associated Press. I challenge any man in the world to show that any item of news sent out by the Associated Press has been doctored or distorted for personal interests. There may be errors, news may be dishonestly reported to the Associated Press representatives, but so far as the Associated Press organization is concerned every news story is carefully scrutinized with the sole view of giving unbiased information to the public.

"We had early information concerning the oil scandals, but we would not print one word about them, until the reports were confirmed at Washington. I could mention numerous other instances to you. The point I am making is that a responsible newspaper is always very careful to see that the news it publishes is true. And I am free to say that I believe this is so with the majority of the big newspapers of the country.

"Of course, errors will get into the newspapers and misstatements are made, but the misstatements are very seldom intentionally made. The only wonder is that with all the hurry with which daily newspapers are gotten out more mistakes are not made.

"But, despite all the care taken by those who conduct the newspapers to keep them reliable and honest, there are many persons who question that reliability and that honesty."

Daily News Letter

General News and Gossip from Staff Writers at Home and Abroad

By ROLAND KREBS
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON April 5.—Washington is the national capital of the nation's birds as well as of its people.

It has more feathered citizens, perhaps, than any other American city of proportionate size. The explanation lies in the fact that the capital's founders were careful to plant trees side by side up one street and down another, so that housing conditions, from the robin's and the sparrow's viewpoint, are excellent today.

The beautiful corridors of trees for which Washington is noted are thickly populated by birds even in the winter. But now that spring is come, leading summer by the hand, the trees are tenanted nearly to capacity.

These birds are great lobbyists in their way, too. They have been lobbying for an early summer ever since spring blew its first warm breath over the city. On mornings when the sunshine is bright and the temperature a little higher than usual, they set up a terrific piping, as if summer would walk right into the capital and set itself down to stay if they all demanded it loudly enough.

There are some who think there be no castes among birds and beasts, such as make life miserable for human beings. They will see how wrong they are when they come to Washington.

The capital has its exclusive sections for upper-class birds as well as its tenements for the working classes. The sparrows, who, with their darting about into waste cans and stealing from fruit stands, constitute the working class of birddom, live over in the leafy tenements of Pennsylvania avenue, which, because of its noise and activity, is not so desirable for the more discriminating.

Franklin Park is the home of the aristocratic blackbirds, who resent very much the way in which pigeons—mere nobodies, if you please—have begun to crowd into their neighborhood.

Here is where one sees the caste distinction most sharply defined. The blackbirds, entirely conscious of how much more beautiful they are, with their gleaming ebony feathers, than the pigeons, strut about and look over the heads of or right through the upstarts.

The pigeons, too, are conscious of how much superior the blackbirds are. They gather themselves together into groups and timidly watch the swash-buckling of the blackbirds. The writer counted 53 pigeons in one group one sunshiny afternoon, all sitting about solemnly in a sort of pigeons' parliament. It resembled a full Senate chamber immediately after a quorum call.

The pigeons go about their business of hunting bugs and worms with as much dignity as the Senate goes about hunting oil frauds and liquor graft. The pigeons on this particular afternoon sat aghast, and the blackbirds, also, were horrified to see one pigeon and one blackbird fraternizing, without regard to social differences, over the same handful of peanuts that a 4-year-old girl threw onto the ground for them.

So you see the bird capital has its scandals as well as the people's capital.

Who's Who

The Right Rev. Ethelbert Talbot of Bethlehem, Pa., who became the presiding bishop of the Protestant Episcopal church in the United States of America following the death of the Right Rev. Alexander Chas. Garrett, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Dallas, Tex., is the last member of the House of Bishops who will occupy this, the highest office in the Episcopal church, by succession.

BISHOP TALBOT

With the next triennial general convention of the Episcopal church, which will be held in New Orleans, La., in October, 1925, the office will become elective. This new legislation was passed at the triennial at Detroit, Mich., in 1919, but the canon was worded so that it would not go into effect during the lifetime of the Right Rev. Daniel Sylvester Tuttle of St. Louis, who had been the presiding bishop for many years.

Bishop Talbot did not expect to become the presiding bishop, as the Right Rev. Edwin Gardner Weed, bishop of Florida, was the next in seniority of consecration. But Bishop Weed died a few weeks ago.

The general convention changed the office from one of succession to one of election because it had long been found that to place such heavy burdens upon the shoulders of the naturally oldest bishops in point of years was more than was right to ask them to bear. The office carries no salary.

Bishop Talbot is known for his love of outdoor life and sports. He has been bishop of Bethlehem 26 years. For 11 years before that he was missionary bishop of Idaho and Wyoming, and his life is intimately woven with those early days of the pioneers. It is said that there were few things he enjoyed so much as a buffalo hunt. The bishop has written a book on "My People of the Plains." Among his other books are "A Bishop Among His Flock," "Tim—the Autobiography of a Dog," and "A Bishop's Message."

One of the many accomplishments of Bishop Talbot in Bethlehem was the building and equipping of a dormitory for students in Lehigh University who are preparing to enter Episcopal priesthood.

Bishop Talbot was born in Fayette, Mo. He was educated in Dartmouth College and the General Episcopal Theological Seminary in New York.

At Local Theatres

THE GLENDALE

"Love Letters," with Shirley Mason, shows at the Glendale Theatre for the last times today. The star gives a praiseworthy performance, as do Gordon Edwards, Alma Francis and William Cummings. The director, David Solomon, has turned out a well-finished production which shows the effort that has been expended.

In addition, five acts of standard Bert Levey coast-to-coast vaudeville are offered at the Glendale Theatre today, including novelty, dancing and singing numbers.

Starting tomorrow, Reginald Barker's "Women Who Give," with Barbara Bedford, is the feature at the Glendale Theatre, a massive production, said to be one of the best sea tales ever filmed.

THE GATEWAY

"Her Temporary Husband," with Sid Chaplin, Owen Moore and Sylvia Breamer, shows at the Gateway theatre for the last times today, a picture that passes quickly from laugh to laugh, growing in intensity to a real explosive finish. Anyone who fails to laugh at and with "Her Temporary Husband" is like the proposed bridegroom, a fit candidate for the undertaker.

The story is based on a situation where the heroine must marry within a certain time in order to inherit a considerable sum of money. So she selects an aged and dying man for her husband, believing, at the worst, he would only be "temporary."

Starting tomorrow, Richard Barthelmess in "Twenty-One" will be the chief attraction at the Gateway theatre, in a John S. Robertson production.

SAVING TROUBLE

An automobile dashed along the country road. Turning a curve, it came suddenly upon a man with a gun on his shoulder and a weak, sick-looking dog beside him. The dog was directly in the path of the motor car. The chauffeur sounded his horn, but the dog did not move until he was struck. After that he did not move.

The automobile stopped and one of the men got out and came forward. He had once paid a farmer ten dollars for killing a dog that belonged to another farmer. This time he was warry.

"Was that your dog?"

"Yes."

"Looks as if we'd killed him."

"Certainly looks so."

"Very valuable dog?"

"Well, not so very."

"Will five dollars satisfy you?"

"Yes."

"Well, then, here you are." He handed a five-dollar bill to the man with the gun and added pleasantly, "I'm sorry to have broken up your hunt."

"I wasn't going hunting," replied the other as he pocketed the bill.

"Not going hunting?" Then what were you doing with the dog and gun?"

"Going out to the woods to shoot the dog."

WHY SHE LAUGHED

Harold is one of those liberal-minded men to whom subleties are vague as the nebular hypothesis to an Eskimo. In addition to this mental encumbrance he is as bashful and shy as a bald-headed man under a spotlight. He is still wondering why the young woman he took for a ride in his new chummy roadster suggested he learn to drive with one hand and why she laughed when he said, "if I ever lose an arm I shall quit driving an automobile."

PROTECT YOUR CHILD'S HEALTH

Through thoughtlessness the slight cough or cold of a child is often neglected and soon becomes serious. A few doses of FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND, at small cost, taken at the onset of the cold would bring speedy relief. Be prepared, have a bottle of this safe, reliable cough remedy on hand, and give promptly when a cough or cold is detected. Equally as effective for older persons. No opiates.

Diet and Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M.D.
Author of Diet and Health, with Key to the Caolries

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

M.—Please go to a skilled obstetrician (maternity doctor) for an examination and care. I hope your wish is going to be gratified.

"Dear Doctor: Have been following your advice to the F. F. F. and have lost 15 pounds. Isn't that wonderful? I cannot remember that I have ever felt as well as I feel now. But there is something bothering me: I have great fat chunks on my shoulder blades. Is there any special exercise that will reduce that part of me? I know quite a few fat ladies who are troubled that way. Gratefully yours, G."

Deep massage on the chunks, together with your continued dieting, will make some impression. There is a rolling machine used in some reducing institutions that is very effective. You can roll on the floor also. Put some papers or a sheet on the floor and rock back and forth. All the exercises for the shoulders and arms would help. Take time!

Mrs. H.—Take your little boy to an ear specialist or to your family physician. It is very dangerous to neglect a running ear. Permanent deafness may result, or he might develop mastoid abscess—that is, the pus germs may finally work around into the cells in the bone back of the ear and then a serious operation will have to be performed.

If you sent a self-addressed, stamped envelope and four cents in stamps, the pamphlet on how to gain and how to reduce has been sent you. Did you do that? If not, try again.

Mrs. B.—You say your little girl of ten is much underweight and you have difficulty in making her eat. She eats lots of pickles, spicy foods, meat and whipped cream and she will take a little milk. She is very active.

Her diet is decidedly wrong, Mrs. B. She should have very little meat and no pickles or spicy food, and she should have vegetables and fruit and lots of milk. The following is a foundation diet for children:

For the protective foods: At least three glasses of milk a day; one full cup of vegetables, especially the green leaf vegetables (part raw); one full cup of fruit, part fresh, if possible. For the energy foods: Whole wheat bread and cereals; fats, in the form of butter, cream, egg yolks and nuts.

We recently had some articles on the Malnourished Child. These are compiled in book form now with the other instructions on feeding children. We will give you the name of the book and the author if you request it. Modesty forbids our giving it here.

"Dear Doctor: I am away from my home town now but I have my paper sent to me every day for your column."

Good! Write that to the editor of your paper.

Mrs. L.—Babies can have orange juice by the third month by beginning with about ten drops in a teaspoonful of water, and increasing a drop or so a day until it takes two tablespoonfuls. It should not be sweetened.

The first thing to do in case of convulsions is to give a hot mustard bath—one tablespoon of mustard to a gallon of water for five or ten minutes. Have the water as hot as you can comfortably put your elbow in. Place a small towel dipped in cold water, or an ice bag, on the head. A mustard pack may be more convenient to give, using some large towels wrung out of the mustard water and wrapping the child in these. Leave on until the skin is reddened well.

As soon as possible, give an enema with warm soapsuds and a dose of castor oil. Nothing should be given but water for six or seven hours, then cereals or boiled milk and water, or fruit juices, for 24 hours.

Call your physician, of course. While convulsions of childhood are most often due to indigestion, you want to be sure they are not from a more serious cause.

Monday—The Hoary Head Is a Crown of Glory.

My Dear Followers—When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or ciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s. a. s. e. if you expect me to send you the

Cupid Chases Blues

Song writer finds cheerful inspiration in love of beautiful Follies girl after his wife turns him adrift and pens lyrics of home and wedding bells.

NEW YORK, April 5.—No longer will Dave Stamper write "Blues" songs. If the jazz hounds want some new tunes with mournful "Mammy" and "My heart is the ashcan of love" strains in them they'll have to find somebody else to pen 'em.

For Dave is changing his tunes entirely. He's writing these days of "cozy nooks," "shady little lanes" and "drifting away to the heavens with you, dear,' stuff.

The reason?

He's engaged to marry again.

Stamper's earliest lyrics and songs written for Follies, skits, etc., were manufactured with Mrs. Stamper for inspiration. But the romance ended. Mrs. Stamper sued for divorce after, she stated, she discovered him in an apartment with a new inspiration. Dave, however, denied any intent to do wrong.

Then came the "Blues" songs.

But they are no more. For dainty little Miss Edna Leedom, Ziegfeld Follies maiden, has changed Stamper's outlook on life. Dave's new songs are about her. And in the near future Dave is going to write one of his ditties which will include wedding chimes, according to reports.

Beauty Chats

By EDNA KENT FORBES

BEDTIME BEAUTY HINTS

The best time of the day to give any sort of beauty treatment is just before bed-time. This is fortunate, for it is the only time many busy women have to spend upon themselves. It is the best time for the woman to massage the face for she is probably at her tiredest then and can see most plainly the parts of her face where lines and wrinkles are forming. Also she will have at least seven or eight hours following the massage when she will be lying down. Complete relaxation after a thorough facial massage is most valuable and is never possible except when it is done at home by the woman herself. A beauty parlor may allow ten minutes or more to lie back in the chair and rest after a massage, but it is more likely that the patient will be hurried out to make room for the next waiting customer.

Bed time is the best time to massage the scalp also, and for the same reason, that the hair is hanging loosely for the rest of the night. Foot treatments are particularly valuable at bed time, too, since the feet have several hours' rest without shoes to rub again the same irritated places that have just been treated.

Even if you do not go in for a regular facial massage at night, make a habit of cleansing the skin thoroughly before you go to sleep. The skin during the day is bound to pick up a great deal of dirt and grime, the pores will be full of face powder and possibly even rouge. For the eight hours or so that you sleep let your complexion be completely at rest with a chance to build itself up again, which it can not do if it is struggling to throw off a combination of rice powder, rouge, soot and street dust. Wash it at night with a combination of cold cream, hot water and soap, and if it needs any special treatments give them to it then.

Baldy: Massage your scalp several times a day, and give especial care to those places where the hair has thinned from using tightened curlers. If you added to this treatment a good hair tonic, such as the pilocarpine, so often recommended in the Chats, it would hasten recovery. If you wish the formula for this tonic, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope and I will be glad to mail it to you.

Constant Reader: At 17 years, height five feet, six inches, your weight should be from 120 to 125 pounds.

Frency: Exercise does not increase the growth of hair on arms or legs. Bleach it with peroxide if it shows very much.

Tie a white silk thread around the wart on your finger, as this will often cause it to dry up and drop off. Another simple treatment is to rub olive oil into the wart, which will sometimes soften it so it sloughs off gradually. The freckles on your arms will lighten from the peroxide.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes, in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

From Book Of Life

LOVE: IDEAL AND REAL

In the definition of one word, dictionaries always seem inadequate. And go to the scientist and he is too cruel; go to poet and he is too sweet; and to the philosopher and he is too cynical.

Perhaps this is because most of the words about love emblazoned in print have been written by men. Of the women who have written about love, Amantine Dudevant, the French woman who penned novels under the mannish pseudonym of "George Sand," at least spoke with feelings based on experience:

"Love is the most malleable of all human sentiments. It takes all forms and produces all imaginable effects, according to the soil in which it takes root. Sometimes a pure and noble soul cannot rise to passion, while a wicked mind entertains it with fire, and has an irresistible want for the possession of a superior being whose superiority it cannot understand.

"Love is spontaneous. It surprises and invades; it never reasons; it has no need to interrogate itself, to surround itself with defences, plans of attack, and projects of retreat. It betrays itself, and then only is restrained."

"The more we love the more we fear to offend the object of our love."

"The human heart is so constituted that young love needs dangers and barriers to nourish it. Love that is dead revives again when it depends no more upon ourselves to kindle it in another's heart."

"Love is a passion that often causes death, and a rose is its emblem; it is the queen of flowers; heroes are crowned with it; but it is, like pride, a subtle poison."

* * *

"The most intense of human enjoyments is love; the most sensible is friendship; the most exciting is indeed glory."

* * *

"How insolent is man when his passion is triumphant! When he loves or is beloved, how he despises all which is not love; how lightly he esteems his life and how ready he is to throw it away when his star begins to pale a little. And when he loses what he loves, what agony, what convulsions, what hatred of the consolations of friendship for God's mercies. But God made him fearful as well as boastful; and soon, fearful and shamefaced and weeping like a child, seeking with timid steps to find his way again, he hastily seizes the hand held out to guide him. Ridiculous, puerile and unfortunate being, who knows neither how to accept or to withdraw from his destiny!

* * *

"A woman cannot long love a man whom she feels inferior to herself; love without veneration, without enthusiasm is but friendship, and friendship is but cold support under those immense evils accepted for the sake of love."

"Ah, you men, how little do you love! . . . When it is not vice that hardens your souls, it is virtue; whether base or noble, you love nothing but yourselves."

"Pride only kills men; love destroys women."

"There is a second loveliness which returns to women who have not received fatal wounds in the first encounters of youthful love."

* * *

"There is something very sweet in abandoning our destiny to those who love us, and in knowing that we are borne on by another. So great is this happiness that it would soon corrupt us had we not the power to resist ourselves. It is a joy akin to the happy child, asleep on its mother's bosom, whose golden dreams are untroubled by one thought of the dangers of real life."

* * *

"Love is always the soul of every conversation in which women take part. Both women and men can debate this point with equal interest and equal warmth; and this has been the case since the human race has been taught to express their sentiments and ideas in words. There is a surprising variety in the expression of the many theories which are discussed, carrying according to the age and experience of the speaker. But no one is sincere in his declarations. All have studied their parts and adapted their opinions and sympathies and feelings to the listeners. At least, it is so with men; they all boast either of easy loving or of being impenetrable."

The lawyer for the defense, in the damage suit, asked the witness who had seen the plaintiff struck by the automobile, how far the victim was thrown by the impact.

"Fifteen feet, six and three-quarter inches," was the immediate response.

"You seem to be very exact in your figures," snapped the lawyer sarcastically. "How does that happen?"

"I guessed some fool lawyer would ask me," the witness answered, "and I measured the distance."

Some years ago there was a fad for "shirt waist boxes." It passed, like all fads, yet there were a great many housekeepers who still clung to the convenient little chests.

So today, in the orderly home, we still find some cretonne-covered boxes in bedroom, sewing room, child's playroom and often in the bathroom. These chests are invaluable for storing articles not used everyday, but articles which are needed frequently enough to forbid their being placed upstairs in the attic trunks.

I know of a woman who keeps her "dress-up" things in such a chest in her bedroom. In it one finds her especially-fancy handbag used in making calls or going to church; her white or ecru kid gloves; her buckled pumps; her purest silk stockings; her best overblouse; her new silk petticoat and finest lingerie.

"It's such a convenience," she told me, "to have all these things together. When I want to go to the theater, or out to tea with some friend, all I have to do is open the lid of my little cretonne chest—and everything I want to wear is right there! It saves assembling all these garments."

Any housekeeper can make her own dainty chest, as follows: Select an oblong wood box of ample proportions and attach a cover to it with small strips of leather for hinges (these do not show when the box is lined). Now tack flowered cretonne over the outside of the chest, but pad the top of the lid slightly (with several thicknesses of muslin tacked on) before covering the lid with cretonne. Line the entire inside with plain old-blue or old-rose soisette (or any plain-colored material) and nail a small cleat in place at either end, inside, to hold a shallow tray. Of course the cleats and the tray must also be lined with the soisette; if the wood of the tray is very thin this lining may often be pasted in. Your storage chest is now completed—unless you wish to make it particularly fancy by adding a brass handle at either end.

The engaged girl who cannot afford to buy a regular cedar chest will find one of these home-made boxes most useful. She will also find it useful when she takes it with her into her new home.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. Be sure to use your full name, street number, and the name of your city and state.—The Editor

Heart and Home

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

HE'S SORRY NOW, PERHAPS

Dear Mrs. Thompson: My husband and I have been separated for over a year. We have a little baby girl. During the first part of our married life he called me "sweetpeas" whenever he felt good-natured.

On Valentine's day he sent a pretty bouquet of sweetpeas and a valentine to our baby. I thought it was really very nice of him. Do you think that he did this only to revive those dear memories of the days when he called me by such a name?

People who do not know the bitter part of our troubles advise me to return to him for the sake of our baby. Shall I do this, knowing that he has absolutely no love for me? He has told me that he has no love for me. I am practically alone in this world. In my aunt's home, where I am living at present, I am knocked around like a slave. I overlook these things because I know I have no other place to go. Shall I divorce my husband and pack my belongings and go far away with my baby?

I will never give up my baby. If I go away it means that I will have to find some sort of work where I can have her with me. I also realize it will be a hard struggle. I am only 19. Do you think it is safe for me to make an attempt at such a struggle?

Your advice will be greatly appreciated. "SWEETPEAS."

Your husband's gift to your baby girl would indicate that the past still holds sweet memories for him. Probably he would be glad if a reconciliation could take place so that the three of you could live together again. I would not advise you to seek work where you could keep your little girl with you. Just as much would be demanded of you in the way of work, and you would not have as much freedom for your child as you have in the home of your aunt. I can see that you are in a difficult position since your husband has declared he does not love you. Perhaps by this time he has changed his mind and realizes that he did and does love you. In case he tries to win you back, be charitable. If reconciliation takes place, give your husband love and consideration and he will be very apt to respond with greater love and consideration than you have known before. After a child is born the mother only too often forgets to love her husband, because she is so absorbed in the child. Very often that has been the cause for a man to look elsewhere for the love he craves.

Women of Today

By MRS. LILIAN CAMPBELL

Mrs. William Finlay Dudman is the widow of a clergyman and circuit rider and has herself ridden the circuit and occupied the pulpit of the Methodist church at Towanda, Illinois for the last thirty years. This is believed to be the longest pastorate of any woman in the country.

After her marriage to the Rev.

Mrs. William Finlay Dudman

Mr. Dudman, Mrs. Dudman became so much interested in his work that she decided to become a minister too. She entered a theological school, received the necessary training, and was duly ordained, and has occupied a pulpit regularly ever since.

Mrs. Dudman gives the same time and energy to her work that a man would give and sees no reason why women should not be pastors as well as school teachers. She has been a widow since 1922, and has been a familiar figure over the central Illinois circuit for three decades and is regarded as one of the most successful pastors of the Central Illinois conference.

Capt. Mary B. Greene, the only woman navigator on the Ohio river, has been made commander of the "Tom Greene," the first all-steel packet built for service on the Ohio. She is the wife of Captain Gordon C. Greene, well known river man and owner of the the Greene line of river boats.

Mrs. Gertrude Bryan Leeper, a newspaper woman of Phoenix, Ariz., wrote a series of articles for a local newspaper dealing with pioneer women. The attention of Major George H. Kelly, the state historian, was attracted to them, and at his request she is collecting data for a book to be published in conjunction with his history of the state.

Gertrude Bryan Leeper

Mrs. Leeper's book will narrate the thrilling experiences of the women who went west when it was truly wild, and full credit will be given them for their contribution to the building up of the state and to the countless hardships they endured.

Miss Annabelle Hooper, daughter of Ben W. Hooper, chairman of the United States Railway Labor Board, has given up society life in the south and is acting as secretary to her rather. Miss Hooper declares she likes big business better than society.

It is said that Bull Montana is forsaking the screen for the legitimate stage. He has been engaged as one of the stars of "Smiles of 1924." Annette Kellerman heads the cast of "The Smiles."

SEATTLE INDIANS SATISFIED WITH WHITE SOX PARK

Wade Killifer's Gang Like Training Camp; May Be Back In 1925

By AL DIX
Of The Evening News Staff.

Despite the rain of Thursday night aand the threatening skies, Wade Killifer and his Indians took their first workout at the White Sox park yesterday, and were giving a sample of the drying out qualities of the Glendale lot. Although the prospects were none too bright in the morning, by midday the diamond was in good fast and at 2:30 o'clock it was very fast.

"Red" did not have any game between the regulars and the Yannigans. He contented himself with letting his athletes have batting practice, and gave his infield a stiff twenty-minute workout. He had Bowman at first, Brady at second, Crane at short and Baldwin at third.

Bowman Second Babe

A word or two relative to this Mr. Bowman would not be amiss at this time. Weighing over 200 pounds, he is an image of the mighty "Babe." In fact, he resembles the Sultan of Swat very much. And he takes a very healthy swing at the ball. He dropped several over the right field fence yesterday, and dusted off the score board several times. A right-handed hitter, he pasted them all over the lot, much to the amusement of his boss. He punched out enough in New Haven last year to wind up the season with an average of .367. He certainly looks good. He is slated to hold down the initial sack. Jimmy Welsh also has his eyes on that position and the battle is raging merrily.

Vean Gregg, veteran of many a battle, took the mound first yesterday and pitched to the batters. He got a good workout, and appeared to have a world of stuff. His curve was breaking well, although he was very sparing of it. He was followed by "Wheezer Dell, a familiar figure to all Southern California fans. Doc Simmons, trainer, stated that the "wheezer" was in very fair condition and it is possible that he will be called upon to work the opener against the Angels Tuesday. He gave way to George Steuland, one of Wade Killifer's aces, who worked up a sweat and then retired for "Red" to take the willow and work out his infield.

Club Is Improved

Jim Bagby worked out on the side lines with Johnny Tobin. He cannot get in condition as quick as some of the youngsters, but expects to have a very good year.

All the fans who saw the Seattle club of last year agree that Killifer this year has a much improved club. They have more pep and they seem to have a punch at bat that was lacking last year. Of course, it's a long time from now until October, but although "Red" is making no pennant predicitions, he wants it understood that his team will be one, two, three.

In common with the other managers of the league, he fears the Vernon Tigers. The addition of Courtney of the Sox, last year premier twirler with the Seals, fills the gap in the pitching staff which has worried Bill Essick. The Vernon pilot is noted as one of the most sagacious handlers of pitchers in the business, and Courtney should be a world beater with him.

Killifer says that on paper Vernon looks good, which is quite an admission for any manager to make about a rival team. But Seattle also looks good, many times better than last year.

The game with the Sox was called this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Kerwin used the regular Sox lineup with Carl Sawyer acting as captain. He has secured the services of Al Miller, southpaw of Wilmington, to help out Thornton and Pfahler. Miller is a real pitcher when going right, but like all southpaws, is somewhat erratic. Joe Lewis will do the receiving.

Stanford Track One of Best in Country

The Stanford track, located in the stadium upon which the runners of Stanford and California will display their achievements in the big meet of the year on April 26, is perhaps the best in the United States and probably in the United States. Construction work was finished on it last year and it has been rolled and allowed to set through the intervening period.

The track was constructed under the supervision of Dad Moulton, famous Stanford track trainer and sprinter of former times. The main oval runs around the inner circumference of the stadium, outside of the football field. A 220 yard straightaway is provided on the north side of the stadium.

Jumping and vaulting pits with circles for the shot and discus are arranged on the football field.

Special clay runways have been provided and the turf carefully taken care of so as to be replaced for football when the track season is ended.

Paper money carries fewer germs than are frequently found in a good grade of milk.

Out To Win For Glendale

Glendale residents will have their first chance to see the Canadian national game of lacrosse played on a local field when the Glendale All-Stars cross sticks with the crack team from the California-Canadian club at the White Sox park on San Fernando road tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The match is being played under the auspices of the Glendale Pyramid of Sciots, and the proceeds will go to help pay the expenses of the local Sciots band to Redding in June of this year, where they will attend the state convention.

To the uninitiated, lacrosse is recommended by Canadians as one of the finest games to witness in existence. There is plenty of action at all times. It is played in four fifteen-minute quarters, and is very fast. An expert with a megaphone will be stationed in front of the grandstand to explain the game play by play.

Players Parade

The Sciots band paraded through the downtown streets this afternoon at 2 o'clock with several members of the teams, and will give a short concert before the game at the park tomorrow afternoon, as well as playing during the intermissions.

Ralph Hemphill, in charge of the affair, states that the demand for tickets has been heavy, many people expecting to come from Long Beach, Santa Monica and Los Angeles to witness the game.

Mayor to Face Ball

Mayor Spencer Robinson will face the ball off at 2:30 o'clock, following a thirty-minute concert by the Sciots band.

The Glendale team is an all-star aggregation composed of the stars of many world's champion teams, and will give the crack Canadian club team a real battle. Sciot Samaloff of the West cafe, 137 South Brand boulevard, will give the members of the winning team a dinner.

BRUINS' EASTERN TRIP UNCERTAIN

No National Championship Timber Strong Enough, Critics Claim

By COPELAND C. BURG
For International News Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—University of California track athletes probably will not compete in the East this season. Three times winners of national oval honors, the Bears this year appear to be in a slump.

Coach Walter Christie, veteran at Berkeley, has worked overtime to turn out his fourth consecutive wonder aggregation but his efforts appear to have been sidetracked.

Barely Beat U. S. C.

California barely nosed out U. C. S., the meet being in doubt until the final event was finished.

Unless the Bears show decided improvement within a very short time Stanford will be a heavy favorite in the dual meet of the two ancient rivals at Palo Alto April 26.

Houser, U. S. C. star, was sick when the Trojans faced the Bears and the best that can be said of the meet was that California won hollow glory.

Upson Is Star

Lauren Upson, youthful Berkeleyan, stands today as one of California's great athletes. Recently he won the intercollegiate golf championship of the Pacific coast and in the U. S. C.-California clash he copped first honors in the pole vault with a mighty leap of 11 feet 3 inches.

Captain Bill Neufeldt is regarded as a cinch for five points when the Bears and the Cardinals run up against each other. He's a crack in the discus event and throws the platter close to 140 feet without cracking a smile.

Jim Barber, California sophomore, is one of the surprises Coach Christie has developed this season. Barber upset the dope pail in the 100-yard dash by winning from Martz, Trojan luminary. Barber's time was 9 9-10.

Baseball in Healthy Condition, Says Mike

DENVER, April 5.—"Baseball was never in a more healthy condition than it is at present," declared Mike Sexton, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Clubs, who is en route to San Francisco to attend the opening of the Pacific Coast League next week. He will later visit all cities in the league.

Sexton paid high tribute to Judge Landis for "rescuing baseball from a terrible mess" following his elevation to the high commissionership of the sport.

FIGHT RESULTS

AT MILWAUKEE—Nate Goldwin, Philadelphia, won on a foul from Johnny Mendelsohn of Milwaukee in fourth round.

AT KALAMAZOO—Bud Gorman, Racine, Wis., beat Captain Bob Roper, ten rounds.

AT WATERLOO—Johnny Cline, Chicago, won decision over Earl Blue, Minneapolis, ten rounds.

Cambridge Rowing Crew Beats Oxford; Latter Were Favored

LONDON, April 5.—The Cambridge rowing crew defeated Oxford in their annual classic upon Thames river this afternoon. A great crowd, including many American tourists, lined both sides of the river and cheered the crews. Oxford was a 4 to 1 favorite on account of having the heavier crew.

Cambridge, known as the "all British crew," won by three and one-half lengths.

Glendale Elks Lose; Carlocks Take Three

After winning the first game handily, the local Elks dropped the next two, with the match, to the Santa Monica Elks on the Recreation alleys last night. In the second game the visitors rolled 1,018, and were only a trifle behind this mark in the third game, when they totaled 996. McCord of Santa Monica in the second game rolled 254, high score of the match.

The Carlocks took three straight games from the Central Cleaners without extending themselves. Dawson, Rehaar and Anstey of the winners were all tied for high score with an even tied for high score with an even 200.

New Lineup for Bears Appearing on Diamond

A new baseball lineup, necessitated by the disbarment of Captain Loyd Thompson, has been taking the field for the University of California. As a result of the change the playing of the team has been rather spotty in the last few games, but it is expected that it will soon be back on the high level of the mid-season.

Morse, erstwhile second baseman, has been placed at Thompson's place in left field and Shields of the second varsity has been taking Morse's position at the second bag. A recent game with the Oakland Pacific Coast League club, in which this lineup worked, was won by the Oaks 2-1, but the encouraging feature of the game was the good showing of the new first string men.

OLYMPIC LINEUP BEST IN HISTORY

Point Winners Numerous in Crew Which Plans to Invade Europe

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, April 5.—Not since the A. E. F. went over and hung the Kaiser's shirt on the Hindenburg line has an American invasion of Europe approached in magnitude the campaign to be waged by the United States Olympic team, according to plans completed today by the American Olympic committee. Of the nineteen branches of competition yet to be held, the committee has announced that it has filed team entries in sixteen, with more than a vague possibility that the remaining three will see the American crest in action.

In numbers and variety it will be by far the greatest athletic team ever sent out of the United States and constitutes an unspoken tribute to the menace of a greatly improved opposition, notably Finland. If America does not win the Olympic games by a wider margin than ever before, it will not be because money and man power have been saved.

In some few of the competitions, of course, little is expected from the American entries. They cannot, for example, hope to prevail in Rugby football, to be held May 3 to 19, nor in soccer, May 15 to June 9. But when the main detachment sails on June 16 and the polo team goes into action three days later, the point totals will begin to rally around the flag.

Sure to Win

The main detachment will include the track and field squad, the oarsmen, catch-as-catch-can wrestlers, boxers, gymnasts and swimmers. Of these the Americans will get more than their share of points in track and field, boxing and swimming, and may win at least two of the main events in rowing and wrestling.

What they will do in target shooting, shotgun matches, equestrian sports, fencing and cycling, only a soothsayer may foretell, but we will lay dollars against dimes that they either win or finish one-two in tennis and the modern penthalon.

The three branches overlooked at the moment are Graeco-Roman wrestling, yachting and weightlifting. It is assumed that if entries are forwarded in these, the Yanks will come in the nature of a diplomatic gesture.

Walter James Farmed Out to Pittsburghers

Walter James, Hollywood semi-pro outfielder, who played with "Dad" Thielman's Buick Autos last season, and received a tryout with the Giants this year, has been farmed out by McGraw to the Pittsburgh club of the Eastern league.

James broke into the Giant ranks without minor league experience, and although the Giant chief likes his playing very much, in a letter to Thielman, James states that McGraw told him that he needed more seasoning.

RED SOX SHOWING BIG IMPROVEMENT

Tail-Enders Last Year, But Should Finish Up High Coming Season

By NICK FLATLEY,
For International News Service.

SHREVEPORT, La., April 5.—The most improved club in baseball is the Boston Red Sox. Lee Fohl's outfit, tail-enders in 1923, will do a lot of fighting this season.

The heritage Frank Chance handed to Lee was not so good. But trades and purchases have manufactured a really good machine and Fohl, in his chronic and original manner, has established the necessary spirit and ambition. The Red Sox should escape the cellar by a couple of notches.

Infield Better

Boston's infield is improved at least a hundred per cent, regardless of the fact that George Burns, a good first baseman, was let go. Joe Harris can cover the bag acceptably and hit the apple ferociously. Bill Wambganss from Cleveland is a fine second baseman.

Dudley Lee, the Tulsa short-stopping sensation, is fast and sure and game, a fine hitter and a good base runner. McMillan should be good at third. Rather new last year, he looks pretty nifty this spring.

Fohl's catching will be just as good as anybody's, provided Steve O'Neill delivers as he can. Steve is a bit fat but says the poundage will wear off. Picnich is present and Val would help anybody's ball team.

Fielders Can Hit

Bob Veach will play left field in his usual steady fashion. Flagstead will play center and Ike Boone, from San Antonio, right. Flagstead can go and get them and he always hits. Boone is a big chap, rather slow, but he can field well enough and he's a murderous hitter. He knocked off a .400 average in Texas.

Fohl thinks the Red Sox pitching has never been rated highly enough. He has Ehmke to start with, and Howard is one of the best. Jack Quinn is starting his twenty-fourth year as a pitcher and as far as we can see, he hasn't lost a bit of his effectiveness.

Ferguson, Piercy, Fullerton and Murray have all fooled around long enough to step into regular jobs and Fohl sincerely believes that at least three of the quartet will do that. Then he has Oscar from Mobile. He will be one of the regulars, the only southpaw on the staff.

In addition, the club has three very promising kids, Nowe, Ruffing and Ulrich, and all three will be retained for a part of the season at least.

California Crew Off to Meet Washington

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, April 5.—Coach Ky Ebright, University of California crew mentor, and the personnel of the first varsity boat which will represent the Blue and Gold in the annual race with the Washington Huskies, on April 12 entrained Friday for Seattle where this year's classic will be held. The oarsmen are: Bow, Captain Charles Loskamp; 2, William Beard; 3, Jack Stewart; 4, Francis Holland; 5, Edwin Harbach; 6, Gordon Crammer; 7, William Donaldson; stroke, Alfred Rogers and Coxswain Owen Hotle.

The freshmen who will fight for honors the same day are: Bow, James Locke; 2, Theodore Roberts; 3, Neil Duckels; 4, Andrew Dixon; 5, Warren Burke; 6, Conrad Hutchinson; 7, Eric Saunders; stroke Blair Geddes and Coxswain Donald Blessing. Brocks Walker and Arthur Gibbons are varsity substitutes, while Robert Green and Chace Grover are freshmen second string men.

Maier Adds Cadore to Tiger Pitching Staff

Following his announcement of Thursday that he had purchased Harry Courtney from the White Sox, Eddie Maier, owner of the Vernon Tigers, made it known yesterday that he had further augmented his pitching staff for the coming pennant chase by the addition of Leon Cadore, also of the Comiskey crew. He bought him outright, but did not make the price public.

Cadore was one of Brooklyn's aces in 1920, when they won the National league pennant, only to lose in the world's series to Cleveland. His most remarkable performance was on May 1, 1920, when he opposed Joe Oeschger of Boston in a 26-inning game that ended in a tie, 1 to 1. This is the longest major league game on record.

The addition of Cadore makes the hurling staff of Vernon look formidable.

La Follette to Have Wisconsin Delegates

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 5.—Wisconsin will be represented at the Republican national convention by 28 La Follette Progressives and one Coolidge supporter. This was virtually assured by latest returns from Tuesday's primary. These gave La Follette nearly 100,000 lead.

Indian War-Whoops

Wade Killifer stood on the third base coaching line and gave signals until he could not stand it any longer, and then grabbed a bat and hit to the infield. He was sweating like a nigger stevedore on a hot day in July at New Orleans when he finished. Incidentally so were the infielders.

* * *

Among the interested railbirds were "Lefty" Thomas and Verne Blenkiron, both former Vernon Tigers. "Lefty" was traded to Shreveport, and did not report, while Verne was sold to Bloomington of the Three-Eye league last week. Verne brought his uniform, but did not work out.

* * *

O'Shea, Kerwin's kid third baseman, was on the sidelines watching Vean Gregg sift over the fast ones. At that he didn't turn white.

* * *

There were about as many gate crashers present yesterday as there have been paid admissions at some of the games. Kerwin expects to pack the park tomorrow afternoon.

* * *

Killifer is mighty sweet on the local park. He has asked lots of questions regarding the hotel situation. He predicts that with a little seasoning the Sox park will rank with any on the coast.

* * *

He did not say whether the 1925 training bee for Glendale was buzzing in his bonnet, but he asked a lot of questions for a man who only expected to stay here two days.

* * *

Bowman looks like the goods. He takes an awful swing at the ball, and handles himself well for a big man. Killifer predicts big things for him.

* * *

It looks very much to the fans as if Seattle had bested Los Angeles in winter efforts to build a ball club. All the old-timers stated after watching the workout that Seattle had a first-division ball club.

* * *

Pitcher Carl Williams, whose shin bone was splintered Tuesday by a drive off of the bat of Jimmy Welch, Bowman's rival for the first base job, was catching files in left field. Killifer says that the injury will not keep him out of the game for any length of time.

* * *

"Suds" Sutherland, former Detroit hurler, incurred the enmity of his team mates by leaving the dressing room door open and letting in the cool Verdugo breeze. Their remarks are deleted by censor.

* * *

Killifer announced he releases yesterday, but somebody is due to get the axe in a short time. Thirty players eat up a lot of spuds.

Pomona, Oxy Frosh Tie for First Place

The Southern California Conference freshmen track meet, held on Patterson field yesterday, ended with Occidental and Pomona tied for first, 48¼ to 48¼. S. B. U. C. came third with 20¼. The day was marked by sensational time in many of the events.

The century was won by Les Gregg, Occidental, in 10 1-5 seconds. Rentchler, Pomona, won the mile in 4 minutes 39 3-5 seconds, with Schmidt of S. B. U. C. some twenty yards behind. Rentchler came back in the 880-yard run and took another first in 2 minutes 5 seconds.

In the half-mile four-man relay the Pomona and Oxy teams raced neck and neck. The Tigers gained about two yards on the third lap, and Brodhead took the lead, winning for Oxy in 1 minute 33 3-5 seconds.

Tigers Win Slugfest From Franklin High

The Occidental varsity baseball team yesterday defeated Franklin High, 22 to 9, in a hitting battle, on the Kiteflyers' diamond. McDonald started the pitching for the victors, and the Franklin team massed nine runs in the first three innings, when Squint Fulton was sent in. Fulton tightened, and the Kiteflyers failed to score another run.

Lee, hurling for the losers, was relieved early in the game. Oxy made seventeen hits to eleven for the losers. Five errors by Franklin players helped to run up the Tiger count. DeMandel of Occidental got four hits in five times at bat and chalked up five runs.

SENDS PRODUCE

For the first time in the history of the United States, America imported more farm products than it sent out, notwithstanding European countries are in some instances on the verge of starvation and much American produce is unmarketed. The report for the year ended June 30, 1923, showed $2,315,000,000 importation against $1,927,000,000 exportation of farm production.

CONTROL PROJECT

Italians have obtained control of an important hydro-electric project in Syria on which Austrians had begun work.

Booklet To Be Issued By Bank Will Trace History Of City From Early Time

The story of Glendale from the time before the Verdugos came to San Gabriel Mission, down to the present, in the shape of a highly illustrated booklet reciting all of the important events in the development of this region, will be one of the features of the opening of the new six-story building of the Glendale Branch of the Security Trust and Savings Bank, now rapidly nearing completion.

"These local historical booklets issued by the Security Bank have proven among the most popular as well as most valuable of the bank's advertising publications," said R. F. Kitterman, vice president and manager of the Glendale Branch, this morning. "The first issued was the story of Hollywood under the title of 'In the Valley of the Cahuengas.' This book has now passed its fifth edition of 40,000 copies.

"Next came 'On Old Rancho San Pascual,' dealing with South Pasadena; then 'The Five Friendly Vaileys,' dealing with Greater Highland Park; then 'A Daughter of the Snows,' which tells of Lankershim and the Great San Fernando Valley, and lastly, 'Crown of the Valley,' the story of Pasadena. All of the last four named are now in their second edition.

Data Wanted

"Laurance L. Hill, who collected the material and prepared the other histories, has been assigned the task of assembling the booklet on Glendale. He reports that he is finding much interesting material. If there are people here who have good photographs illustrating the early growth of the community, or who have any sort of local historical material, we would appreciate it very much if they would let us know of it," said Mr. Kitterman.

"The book, when issued, will be given free distribution. Mr. Hill has been pronounced one of the most successful of local historians. His researches are complete, his style clear and interesting and his books are illustrated in a beautiful manner. So any help that can be given him in preparing this book on Glendale will be a rear service to the community of which we are all so proud."

Embody Nature's Beauty In Fitting Backgrounds Of Sparr Heights Homes

Barnum-Walters company, developers of Sparr Heights, are greatly pleased with the style of homes now under construction in their residence district de luxe—Montecito Park—according to Mr. Walters.

"Even the most casual observer is forced to admit that there is 'something different' about the homes being built in this district.

"They are not only beautiful—true ornaments to the landscape, but they 'fit into the picture'.

Lovers of Nature

"This is due, largely, to the fact that the person who buys and builds in Montecito Park is a true lover of nature, deeply appreciative of the many advantages and opportunities presented by that section.

"In laying out the entire subdivision of Sparr Heights, we were particularly careful to leave things as nearly as possible just as "Mother Nature" landscaped them. Not a tree or shrub was thoughtlessly uprooted. We felt that Nature had been so lavish in bestowing her favors on that community, we had no right to try to replace them with any of our own ideas or suggestions."

Chauffeur Arrested For Larceny of Auto

Jesse Riley, colored, former chauffeur for Mrs. H. Olund, 611 North Geneva street, who departed Sunday morning, along with the family car, was arrested in Los Angeles last night by detectives of the Los Angeles police department through information furnished them by the Glendale office.

Riley was sent to the local Studebaker garage to get the car last Sunday and, instead of returning with it, kept right on going, it is charged. He was traced through his sweetheart in Los Angeles. He is held under $1000 bond on a charge of grand larceny.

EXPLAINS HOW TO FILE CLAIMS TO SECURE REFUNDS

Community Property Ruling On Income Tax Affects Many In State

Collector of Internal Revenue Rex B. Goodcell today announced the procedure to be followed by approximately 100,000 taxpayers in southern California who will be affected by the new ruling permitting the division of income received from community property.

Taxpayers may file claim for refund for taxes overpaid for the years 1918 to 1923 inclusive. Claims for 1918 will be allowed provided a waiver is filed on or before June 15, 1924.

Collector Goodcell said that claims for refund should be filed for the years 1918 to 1922 inclusive, showing net amount of refund due, accompanied by amended return for husband and delinquent return for wife, in all cases where only one return was filed. Separate amended returns should accompany claim for refund where two returns were filed. Separate claims must be filed for each year affected.

All claims must be accompanied by an agreement signed by both husband and wife consenting to the adjustment therein demanded.

Suggests Filing Claims

For the year 1923, Collector Goodcell suggested that claim be filed against the subsequent installments due this year upon the taxpayer's return for 1923, provided the tax has not been paid in full.

If the amount of tax assessed and not paid on the return filed by the taxpayer is more than the total tax due upon amended returns, Collector Goodcell said that a claim for abatement should be filed for the excess shown to be due on the original 1923 return over the separate returns filed for the taxes overpaid for the calendar year 1922 to be applied against the balance remaining due for the calendar year 1923.

Collector Goodcell invited the attention of all taxpayers to the fact that the treasury decision 3568 permits the division of income received from community property only, and that taxpayers must continue to report separately that income received from their separate property. The separate returns filed should be accompanied by a statement showing the amount received from community property and the amounts received from separate property. This will expedite the handling of claims by the Internal Revenue Bureau and the taxpayers will receive their credit or refund more quickly if all facts are shown on the amended returns filed, and the necessity for obtaining additional information is obviated.

How to File

In no case should any claim be filed without the accompanying agreement properly signed by both husband and wife, agreeing to the adjustment of taxes. Amended returns should be filed upon the regular income tax blanks, and should be clearly marked "Amended."

Claims for abatement, refund or credit are filed upon Form No. 843, which can be secured from the office of the collector or any of the branch offices.

Amended returns should be securely attached to the reverse side of claims filed.

The collector said that only a limited number of prior year returns are on hand at this time, but that additional forms are now en route from Washington, D. C.

Claims may also be filed for 1917, Collector Goodcell stated, in cases where taxpayers filed waivers agreeing to a later determination of taxes due prior to April 1, 1923.

In view of the contemplated 25 per cent reduction in taxes, Collector Goodcell advised that taxpayers withhold filing claims for 1923 taxes until June 1, 1924 at least. It will then be possible for one claim only to cover the entire adjustment.

Eighth Escape from Death Is Celebrated

ST. PAUL, April 5.—M. T. Hook is celebrating his eighth escape from death, under the wheels of an automobile.

For twelve years, Hook has been a continuous "set up" for automobiles and trucks on St. Paul streets. He was first struck in 1912 and badly cut up, and nearly every year since then he has been in some kind of an automobile accident, nearly always as a pedestrian victim. Thursday, however, he was driving an express wagon when a motor car hit the vehicle and catapulted Hook to the street. As emergency surgeons were dressing his scalp and scratches in the ambulance on the way to the hospital he remarked on the constanly improving ambulance and hospital service.

"The first time, twelve years ago," Hook said, "they took me to the hospital in a rickety old patrol wagon drawn by horses. But now we slide along in a fine ambulance hospital on wheels. I suppose on my ninth or tenth trip you will take me in an airplane or maybe send me by radio."

Canes are made out of a species of cactus called opuntia imbricata, which grows in southern New Mexico.

Bible Students Will Direct Sunday Service

A number of students of the Southern California Bible school will take charge of the Sunday night service at the Bethel church, 633 East Colorado street.

These students are being trained for missionary and evangelistic work abroad and in the States of Canada. During the evening service they will give testimonials and present a splendid musical program.
